Scranton Horsemen Will Stop Here Saturday Enroute To A Duel With Kentucky Gunners

A team of Pennsylvania horsemen enroute to Kentucky with a challenge to a "duel" will arrive in Gettysburg late Saturday afternoon. The party comprises 14 persons.

The riders will camp overnight adjacent to the Peace Light Inn, through the courtesy of Harvey Warner, proprietor. Their mounts will be stabled at the Winebrenner Riding Academy.

At sundown, Saturday evening, a campfire program will be conducted in the riders' bivouac area. The public is invited.

The program, arranged in cooperation with the Gettysburg Travel Council, will include a weapons demonstration by John Smarsh, an historian of the National Park Service, and an up-to-date report by representatives of the Gettysburg Centennial Commission on plans for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Persons planning to attend the campfire program may park on the battlefield north of the Eternal Light Peace Memorial.

RIDE ON SUNDAY

Before the riders depart from Gettysburg Sunday afternoon, they will go on a horseback tour of the battlefield led by Leroy Winebrenner.

The riders, who left the Daniel Boone Homestead near Reading Wednesday morning, are carrying a formal challenge from Governor William W. Scranton to Kentucky's Governor Bert Combs. The challenge centers about Kentucky's claim to the "long rifle" and questions the ability of that state's marksmen.

Pennsylvanians are calling upon the Blue Grass state to find its finest marksmen to engage in a shooting match with Pennsylvanians at the Boone Homestead later this year.

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, which has worked out the arrangements for the challenge and shooting match, points out the "long rifle" was developed and produced by Pennsylvania gunsmiths.

One of the nine-member team is Mrs. Jan Wilt, East Berlin R. 4.

COUNTY WOMAN ACQUITTED OF MURDER COUNT

Mrs. Patricia Osborne Livingston, 21, New Oxford R. 2, was acquitted by a York County jury Wednesday of any blame in the death of Dorothy Patricia Zinn, 18, of 144 North St., Hanover.

Mrs. Livingston, held in York County jail since December 8, was found not guilty in a verdict returned to Judge James E. Buckingham by a jury which deliberated two and one quarter hours on the third day of the trial.

Mrs. Livingston, mother of three children, was charged in a bill of indictment with murder and manslaughter. The indictment stemmed from a charge brought by Police Chief John S. Berkheimer, of Hanover.

District Attorney Daniel W. Shoemaker represented the Commonwealth at the preliminary hearing at which Mrs. Livingston was held for court action.

Mrs. Livingston, who had wept intermittently during the trial, broke down as the jury announced its verdict.

DENIED INTENT

The Commonwealth charged Mrs. Livingston with beating Miss Zinn outside Betty's Restaurant, 102 Baltimore St., Hanover. Mrs. Livingston admitted she fought with Miss Zinn, but denied she ever meant to actually injure her and never intended to kill her. Mrs. Livingston testified at the trial she only wanted to scare Miss Zinn so that she would stay away from her husband, Norman. The latter had testified he had been "running around" with Miss Zinn.

Costs of the case automatically will be borne by the county because the jury had no say as to where the costs should be placed.

The verdict returned by the jury was one of four it could return, the others being murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree or manslaughter.

CALLLED JUSTIFIABLE

The jury of seven women and five men began its deliberations at 4 p.m., after receiving the charge of the court which lasted almost two hours. Two alternate jurors did not participate in the deliberations.

In his summation to the jury, Defense Attorney Richard P. Noll called the case one of excusable or justifiable homicide. He said that Mrs. Livingston, under the circumstances, acted like any mother in her position might have to save her home and family. He said she "was not looking for trouble" when she met Miss Zinn.

The program will be in two parts under the direction of Robert G. Zeigler, instrumental music teacher in the elementary school.

The first section of the program is titled "Music of the Masters" and will open with three chorales by Bach and will continue with "Merry Rondo" by Couperin, "Toy Symphony" by Mozart, "Minuet" by Mozart, "Chorale and Prelude No. 20" by Weiss-Chopin, "The Glory of God in Nature" by Beethoven, "Nocturne" by Mendelssohn, "Panis Angelicus" by Franck and "Academic Festival Overture" by Brahms.

FCC OFFICE TO REMAIN HERE; MAY UP STAFF

The Gettysburg Federal Communications office will remain at its present location on York St., with approximately as many permanent employees as it has now. Possibly additional temporary employees will be added during the fall and winter to assist in handling work arising from the transition of the local office from one type of work to another.

CONGRESSMAN GEORGE A. GOODLING AND U.S. SENATOR JOSEPH S. CLARK HAVE BOTH FORWARDED COPIES OF A STATEMENT CONCERNING THE GETTYSBURG OFFICE OF THE FCC PREPARED BY THE FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE IN WASHINGTON.

According to the statement, initial processing of citizens' and amateur radio license applications will continue to be performed at the local office. However, because of the "electronic computer program and the application fee system announced on May 8," the specific work procedures to be followed here will be "substantially altered."

PLANS FOR CLOSING ARE OFF

The statement noted that two or three functions currently performed in Washington will be moved to Gettysburg.

The change in functions and operations to be performed here will "require retraining and reassignment of duties," according to the statement, and "as a result of the above, the grade and salary structure will probably be about the same general pattern as now, although indications are that there may be room for a few 'promotions.'"

Some time ago, the FCC had announced it planned to close the local office on August 1 because of plans to use automatic machines to process the amateur and citizens radio license applications.

March 30 it was announced that a small force, probably half the 25 employed at that time, would be retained here to take care of problem cases that required individual attention and could not be handled by automatic machines. The statement announcing the continuation of initial processing here and addition to other functions is dated May 10.

Haiti's Dictator Defies Threats On Life; Claims Re-election 2 Years Ago

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti's Dictator-President Francois Duvalier insists he will remain in office despite reports abroad that he is planning to flee his rebellion-threatened country.

"Haiti will continue under my administration," Duvalier told American correspondents summoned to his palace Wednesday in an apparent effort to scotch reports he intended to flee.

By showing himself unscathed, Duvalier, 56, scored a victory over enemies who had sworn to kill him rather than let him begin a new presidential term.

Duvalier's constitutional term of office expired Wednesday, but he declared himself re-elected for six more years after a rigged ballot two years ago.

Cooper, With Calm Confidence, Roars On To Complete 22-Orbital Flights Around World At 7:23 O'clock Tonight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper, a superbly performing space pilot, sped on toward completion of his marathon 22-orbit flight today, heading for an afternoon splash-down in the Pacific Ocean.

By BEM PRICE

With astronaut and spacecraft in excellent working order, Mercury Control Center flashed the good word to Cooper during his 8th orbit that he had the green light to go all the way.

If there is no emergency hitch, the reverse rockets on Cooper's Faith 7 capsule are to be fired east of Shanghai, China, about 6:03 p.m. Eastern Standard Time to begin a gradual descent to a parachute landing in the Pacific some 80 miles southeast of Midway Island.

TOUCHDOWN TIME

Touchdown time was scheduled about 6:23 p.m.—12:23 p.m. Midway Time.

A large Pacific recovery force, headed by the carrier Kearsarge, waited in the area. The Kearsarge hoped to improve on its record of last Oct. 3, when it had astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. on board just 42 minutes after he landed some 9,000 yards from the craft.

Cooper was waved on for the full flight not long after he awakened from a good night's sleep.

Then he went into action as a camera bug.

TAKES PICTURES

Over the Indian Ocean he pulled out a 35 mm. robot still camera with a fast lens to photograph the zodiacal light, a weird glow visible on the horizon in the east before sunrise and after sunset. Scientists believe the color pictures will prove a theory that the phenomena is caused by the sun's rays reflecting off dust clouds.

"Hello down here! Did I take pictures, pictures, pictures!" Cooper exclaimed to communications Virgil Grissom on the ground at Guaymas, Mexico. Then he reported he was turning the capsule 360 degrees on its yaw axis to take the "MIT jobbies."

HORIZON PICTURES

He referred to a series of eight horizon pictures made especially for Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which is studying the possibility of using the horizon as a navigation reference point for spacecrafts returning from the moon.

"You have my sympathy," Grissom commented.

"I'm not complaining," Cooper replied.

Grissom then passed on some camera lens setting and filter suggestions from Mercury Control Center. Cooper went about his picture-taking business and sped across the southern United States to the start of his 17th earth orbit.

MISER ON FUEL

Cape Canaveral contacted Faith 7 at 9:09 a.m. and astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. commented on how well Cooper was conserving his fuel and oxygen.

"You sure are a miser on consumables," Shepard said. "You're saving things very well."

During the 16th orbit, Mercury Control Center at Cape Canaveral evaluated the condition of the astronaut and spacecraft systems and then waved Cooper's Faith 7 past a go-no-go decision point over Australia.

"Roger, very good," was Cooper's reaction when the tracking station at Muchea, Australia, relayed the good word.

If anything had been amiss, Cooper would have been ordered to fire his spacecraft reverse rockets over the eastern Pacific for a landing in the Atlantic Ocean.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Control center officials reported the pilot was "in excellent condition. He is strong, his attitude is

MAKE CHANGES IN HALLOWEEN PARADE PLANS

A number of changes are contemplated for this year's Halloween parade, according to discussion at Wednesday evening's meeting of the Gettysburg Halloween committee at the VFW home, E. Middle St.

A beauty float section will be added to the parade this year. Members of the committee said that each year several floats designed for beauty have appeared in the parade even though there was no prize category for them.

The committee also suggested setting aside a number of "judge's prizes," to be given to outstanding individuals, small groups, floats or whatever may be worthy of prizes but which do not fit into any of the regular categories. The number of prizes for individuals and small groups will also be increased from nine to 20 or more.

SAME PARADE ROUTE

Following the discussion, President Robert Swisher asked Parade Chairman William Ditzler to head a committee to study the prizes to be awarded and report back by the next meeting of the general committee.

Agreement was reached that the parade should follow the same course as last year, forming in the Spring Ave. area on various streets there, then moving on Chambersburg St. to Lincoln Square, then south on Baltimore to Middle and west on W. Middle to Reynolds Ave.

Members of the general committee agreed that "we should have something after the parade" for the entertainment of the participants but no final decision was reached.

LIST SUBCHAIRMAN

Irvin Seilhamer and Carroll Smith were appointed as a committee to find what buildings might be available for a dance or other activity after the parade. Last year an open air dance

STORES BACK PAL TO END RACE BOYCOTT

By JACK STILLMAN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A desegregation pact aimed at ending this industrial city's racial unrest has the backing of some of Alabama's most prominent businessmen.

Their names were disclosed Wednesday night amid reports of a budding boycott of stores by white persons opposing the racial agreement.

Both white and Negro leaders say they will stick to the agreement despite efforts to influence white shoppers to boycott downtown merchants.

FEW WHITES

Negroes, who launched a boycott a year ago in their campaign for desegregation, are appearing in greater numbers in the stores, but merchants report fewer white shoppers. The merchants are worried, and some say the city's economic plight, already bad, is becoming more serious.

Commission Mayor Arthur Hanes and Police Commissioner Eugene Bull Connor have called on white residents to boycott the downtown merchants in retaliation for the desegregation pact.

A spokesman for a citizens committee said release of the names of 77 persons asked to participate in efforts to solve the city's racial problems was designed to avert further violence and to head off a large scale white boycott. The spokesman said "only a few" of the 77 did not participate in the committee's efforts. They were not designated.

ACCUSES JFK

In Montgomery, Gov. George C. Wallace, an avid segregationist, accused President Kennedy of setting up a military dictatorship by sending special troops into Alabama for possible use in Birmingham. The governor promised to file a suit in federal court to test the legality of the President's order.

Kennedy ordered 3,000 combat-trained troops to Alabama bases for possible use in Birmingham after bloody rioting erupted in the city last weekend.

A Negro integration leader, the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth Jr., was convicted in City Court of parading without a permit in a mass march April 12. He was sentenced to 180 days in jail, fined $100 and released under an appeal bond of $2,500.

COBBLER FRAU STILL ON JOB

BERLIN (AP)—Agathe Haemmerling, 75 years old, is Berlin's oldest feminine shoemaker. She is still at the job.

Partly because of the Berlin wall, she says she plans to keep on repairing shoes for some time to come.

Before the East German Communists built it, Frau Haemmerling had two helpers from East Berlin.

The wall barred some 60,000 East Berliners from jobs they held in West Berlin. Among them were two young helpers who worked for Agathe Haemmerling.

"The day the Reds started their wall, my two young lads didn't turn up anymore. Ever since I've been working on my own."

"You know," she says, "It was then and there that I discovered I really don't want to retire yet. Why should I? I'm not old enough for an old age home."

LEARNED FROM HUSBAND

Vigorously, she hammers away at a show she was fitting out with a new sole.

She learned from her late husband. In 1935, the Haemmerlings opened a small shoemaker shop at Regensburger Strasse in Schoeneberg district, now in the American Sector of West Berlin. Some of her customers have been coming for over 25 years.

The old doorbell still rings frequently as they enter the dimly lit basement shop.

Occasionally, somebody comes around to sit with her for a little chat. Otherwise, her black cat, Pussy, is her only company.

A sewing machine, nearly 65 years old, is hardly used.

"It's too old," the shoemaker says. "I'd rather do everything by hand. That guarantees a more solid job."

Frau Haemmerling has no children and no relatives in Berlin. "I'm not complaining about loneliness," she professes. "My work is my company. I think I'll be working when I'm 100."

"Work keeps you young."

NO EXTENSION
However, Powers said absolutely no consideration was being given to a possible extension of the flight past 22 orbits.

Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., said he had spoken to Cooper's wife, Trudy, in Houston, Tex., this morning and that she told him she had awakened about the same time her husband apparently awoke.

She wished to know when she could listen in again on the special radio installed in the Cooper home for the conversations between her husband and Cape Canaveral, Schirra said.

He added, "She's in good spirits."

"Negative," he replied. "I slept too soundly."

Cooper wasn't saying much. "I think he must be saving words for posterity or something," said Lt. Col. John A. Powers, the voice of Mercury Control.

But as a pilot, Cooper's performance topped anything by a U.S. astronaut so far.

His use of the fuel and oxygen supplies of his Faith 7 spacecraft were excellent. As his 16th orbit began, Powers reported that Cooper had 70 per cent of the fuel supply remaining in Faith 7's automatic control system, 90 per cent in the manual system. In his first 24 hours aloft, he consumed only

Cooper reported that he had some discomfort during the night when his spacesuit heated up. But he said he adjusted the temperature setting and went back to sleep.

Powers said the astronaut reported that "as far as he was concerned everything on the spacecraft was nominal."

DOCTOR CLAIMS GOOD RESULTS FROM NEW DRUG

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Lebanon, Pa., physician says he has treated 299 patients with the controversial drug Kribozen and has helped set up similar treatment for another 50 or so from all over the United States.

"Many have been helped by the drug," Dr. Frank Rutherford says.

The Lebanon physician was one of a number of men and women who gave testimonials Wednesday in behalf of the drug as a control for cancer.

A federal drug control law passed last year requires the sponsors of drugs in investigational use, such as Kribozen, to file an acceptable plan by June 7 to govern future use.

Boisfevil Jones, special assistant to the secretary of welfare, said his department will "cooperate to the maximum extent" to help the sponsors of Kribozen meet the legal requirements and avoid a distribution cut-off.

Pennsylvania Rep. James D. Weaver, a physician in private life, defended the government in the Kribozen controversy.

The Pennsylvania Democrat said, "The Food and Drug Administration has fairly warned the sponsors of Kribozen that they must submit to the normal investigative procedures if they are to continue in interstate distribution of the drug. It is my understanding that these sponsors have failed to do this."

The modernization plans call for an addition to the present building at Baltimore and High Sts. to provide more work space and loading docks. The project will cost in the neighborhood of $220,000. The addition will extend to the rear of the present post office and will be a one-story structure with modern lighting, air conditioning and other modern work facilities. UNIONS SIGN NEW CONTRACT AT BOEING CO.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The AFL-CIO Machinists' Union's acceptance of a new contract with the Boeing Co. spells the end of 10 months of bickering and three threatened strikes at the big aerospace firm.

Best estimates Wednesday after word the contract was approved 14,205 to 4,688 in last Friday's balloting was almost $30-million in salary increases during the three-year life of the agreement, with an average retroactive pay of about $200.

In the Seattle-Renton area, where the firm is headquartered and where about 31,000 of the affected employees work, it means that about $5 million will be pumped into the local economy in a special payday June 21.

The contract provides boosts of 22 to 32 cents hourly improvement in employee rating, union security and other benefits. Present scales range from $1.98 1/2 to $3.27 1/2 an hour.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Big Job By Big Men: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters has offered a few figures which pictured the immensity of the Allied push that mopped up Tunisia in such short order. Because there was a shortage of rolling stock, 70 locomotives and 700 freight cars were shipped from the United States to North Africa, and two fuel pipelines totaling 118 miles were built to send gasoline and oil streaming to the battlefield, it was disclosed. In addition to the railroad traffic, an immense number of motor vehicles were in use. One traffic control point checked 200,000 military vehicles from January to the end of the campaign. Every possible port was used. One small port, unimportant in peace time, handled 330 ships which brought in more than 1,000,000 tons of stores.

It was also disclosed that 339,000 bags of mail from home cheered soldiers in the field. They were busy and didn't have too much time to write. They sent back 30,000 bags of letters. A total of 4,300,000 V-mail letters were handled.

The cooperation of the British and American medical services, under Gen. Eisenhower's command, kept sickness low among all the troops. Allied planes, a large number of motor ambulances and eight hospital trains rushed 12,000 casualties from forward stations to base hospitals during the campaign.

"The number of deaths from wounds has been amazingly small, once casualties reached the hospital," one officer said. The use of new drugs and quick transfusions in the field saved many another life, it was said.

Three Adams county young men held a Gettysburg Reunion in North Africa recently.

Lieutenant Clarence W. Epley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street, in a letter received by his parents Saturday, wrote, in substance, from North Africa as follows:

"I went into town the other day and while there saw a young fellow who looked like Norman Small (son of Walter Small, Washington street). When I returned to camp I read The Gettysburg Times that Small was in North Africa.

"The next day I had to go into town again and while there looked up Small and found him along with George Tate (son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tate, West Middle street). We had quite a reunion together, talking about G-burg and the good old times. We're going to have more reunions whenever we can get together.

Suggestion To Town Council: Why not officially change the name of Center Square to LINCOLN SQUARE?

Lincoln avenue is the only official recognition, in town, we have given the martyred President.

Lincoln Square, we believe, will have far greater significance and attract far more attention than just plain Center Square.

"Uncle Ed" Can't Supply Flowers For May 30th This Year: Ed Barbehenn, North Stratton street, said today that he will be forced to break a 33-year-old custom on Memorial Day this year because he will not be able to supply bouquets of flowers for school children to carry in the annual parade and to scatter in the National cemetery.

Due to the illness of his brother, who recently suffered a stroke, Mr. Barbehenn said he will be forced this year to disappoint the hundreds of children who look to "Uncle Ed" each year to supply them with flowers to be strewn over the soldiers' graves.

Many of the flowers which Mr. Barbehenn supplied were secured from his brother for many years.

Today's Talk

THE MAN WITH THE MASK

He walked streets. He wore the ordinary clothes that convention suggested. His likes, dislikes, and habits savored purely human.

He was loved for much that he was and admired for much that he did. He was never hailed as remarkable and an under-abundance of acclaim came his way.

Music, art, literature, people, common things, incidents were playthings to him as to many another.

Yet, he was a man with a mask!

You see, it was like this. He thought he could be himself, and grow to a ripe maturity just as the flower expects to, before it is taken in the night and seared by the bitter frost that comes on so unawares.

But the cold, beating rain of the world chilled his soul. He shivered a little — and put on the mask. He has worn it ever since.

Not that he was ashamed or wanted to conceal anything. Rather, the opposite.

As a rule, we show to the outer world that which mostly we are not. We keep the rest for ourselves — behind the mask.

Our many selves must guide us, advise us — rule us.

We are not such strayful human beings as one would suppose. Each of us must, through the force of a strange necessity, hew fairly straight to the line of least resistance. We must accept our heritages with good, as well as with silent, grace.

But the inner thrills of substantial experience must flower in our heart of hearts, quite alone and separate from that which the world knows about.

The man with a mask — ye is not a worthy citizen of the world? However lonely, does not such a one touch the heart strings of all, and make each his debtor?

We know only as we know. And we know only as we feel. The man with the mask feels. For behind that voluntary mask live all the vital elements of sympathy, breadth, tolerance, kindness, and unselfish desire.

You who long and strive, are the man with the mask!

A BIRD LANDLORD'S TROUBLE

We advertised a house for rent, A little wren house, painted brown, Where birds could live and be content, The finest cottage in the town.

Since then a battle grim has waged From dawn to dusk the warriors race, The blue birds claim the spot engaged, The wrens insist they want the place.

I, as their landlord, idly stand And wish their bickerings would cease; If I knew how I would command Them instantly to give up peace. But secretly I watch them fight And openly I wear a grin; They ought to settle it by night, And, oh, I hope the wrens will win.

BILL TO RAISE DEBT LIMIT IS NEAR VOTE

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders plan to bring a debt limit raising bill to a vote before the debt bumps against the present $305 billion lid. The Treasury expects this to happen before the end of the month.

The bill squeaked through the House 213 to 204 Wednesday as opposing Republicans and conservative Southern Democrats put on their most impressive show of strength in the present Congress. Democrats predict another close success in the Senate.

During Wednesday's debate fiscal conservatives insisted the Kennedy administration could be forced to trim its spending if the bill were defeated—or a Republican substitute continuing the present ceiling indefinitely were adopted.

DROP AUTOMATICALLY

Without any congressional action, the debt limit would drop automatically to $265 billion July 1.

The House-passed bill would raise it immediately to $307 billion, then on July 1 to $309 billion, effective through Aug. 31. Before then, it is generally expected, the ceiling will have to be raised again, especially if Congress passes President Kennedy's tax cut legislation.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee tentatively scheduled a session for next Wednesday on the debt ceiling.

GOT PERSONAL APPEAL

Although the Virginia Democrat personally opposes increasing the limit, he is understood to have promised prompt handling of the bill, following a personal appeal by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

The nine-vote margin by which the House passed the bill matched the closest previous administration victory in the present Congress, on a feed grain program.

BIEBIGHAUSER ON TRIAL FOR COED'S DEATH

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—An Erie man has testified that Mary Lynn Crotty, an Edinboro State College coed, never returned to a home of a friend following a date with Daniel R. Biebighauser, 21, also of Erie.

The prosecution opened its testimony Wednesday in the murder trial of Biebighauser, who is accused of strangling Miss Crotty, 20, of suburban Lawrence Park last January.

John F. Harvey said he and Biebighauser, who is married and has a 10-month-old child, met Miss Crotty and Paulette Cywinski of Erie, also an Edinboro student, last Jan. 19 at Cambridge Springs 10 miles west of Edinboro.

15 KNIFE WOUNDS

He said they went to establishments in Erie and Westerville, separating after they left the last place at 3:30 a.m.

Miss Cywinski called the next day, Harvey said, and told him Miss Crotty never arrived at her house where she was to spend the night.

In other testimony, Dr. John A. Fust said in answer to a question from the defense attorney that chemical tests he made to determine if Miss Crotty had been assaulted criminally proved negative.

However, Fust, a pathologist said, he could not determine positively if a criminal assault had occurred.

He further stated that he found visual evidence of a sexual injury in addition to marks of strangulation and 15 exterior knife wounds on the body.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Bob Donato of Milmont Park will be captain of the 1963-64 Penn State University basketball team.

The 5-foot-10 playmaker, named Wednesday, was hailed by Head Coach John Egli as the team's "most improved player last season," when the Lions had a 15-5 record.

Did you know that some spring-form pans come without clamps?

Truck Runs Wild With Cargo Of Pigs

JIM THORPE, Pa. (AP)—A truck's brakes failed and it ran out of control down steep Broad Mountain Hill near here Wednesday and overturned. Police and residents of the area then started chasing the cargo.

The truck police said was driven by Leroy A. Alderfer of Lansdale, Pa., was carrying 149 pigs to market in Philadelphia. Police said 45 pigs were recovered right away. Some were dead and some others had to be destroyed.

But the rest scampered away, intent on escape.

Neither the driver nor a passenger were seriously hurt.

GOLDWATER ASKS STOP TO FUND RAISING

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he has asked three California GOP groups to stop raising presidential campaign funds for him.

Goldwater said Wednesday he had written two organizations of volunteers, notifying them he isn't a candidate for the 1964 nomination and that he wants them to halt any fund collection for that purpose.

To avoid embarrassment of individuals involved, he didn't name the groups. He said he had reports a third organization was collecting funds, but didn't know its name so had written a GOP county chairman asking him to act.

LIKE ROCKY DID

The action by Goldwater was somewhat similar to that taken by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in calling off the efforts of former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to organize a nomination drive for the New Yorker in California.

Goldwater insisted he was acting only in line with his repeated announcements that he is only running for re-election to the Senate next year.

"We are still sending back 'Goldwater for President' checks that come in," he said. "Of course, we're glad to keep contributions made for the senatorial campaign."

Peterson Essay Wins Top Honors In DAR Contest

The first prize in the annual essay contest conducted by the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was won by Miss Maren Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peterson, Gettysburg R. 3, a Senior at Gettysburg High School. Her essay on "The Teaching of Communism in American High Schools" follows:

"We shall bury you!" With these words, Khrushchev threatened the United States. His meaning was not a burial by bombs; instead, he referred to a burial of democracy by the political and economic victory of communism.

In 1903, Lenin established the Bolshevik movement with seven thousand supporters. In 1917, he conquered Russia with a party of forty thousand members. By 1959, those ruled by communism numbered one billion. Comparing this figure with that of the world's population, two and three quarters billion, and recognizing that this conquest was reached in less than a half century, one realizes that Khrushchev had an historical basis for making this threat.

In retaliation, the United States has taken action to strengthen its military position. It is currently spending millions of dollars in an effort to provide security against physical conquest. But this arms buildup will prove effective only in an open war. The doctrines of communism spread like cancer, and will continue to invade innocent countries unless a war does occur or some other means are taken to check them.

BEST PROTECTION

Education is probably the best protection against communism. If a person understands the basic differences between various social and economic systems, he is more likely to make an intelligent choice of philosophy than if his searching mind is subjected to propaganda accompanying a growing economic system.

The question of education has caused some controversy. Many people argue that teaching about communism is kindred to asking people to become communists. But other groups realize the threat and urge that communism be taught. They agree with President Kennedy, who says: "It is most urgent that American schools tackle in earnest the task of teaching our youth about communism — totalitarianism in its toughest, most militant form — with the facts and values of our American heritage." They advocate its being studied by high school students, reasoning that the high school provides an atmosphere conducive to learning, which is often not available after graduation. Some contend that students of this age are apt to subscribe to radical philosophies merely to display their individuality. But on the other hand, students properly educated concerning communist doctrine will see its fallacies.

Communism can be taught on a comparative basis, or an historical approach can be used. A combination of both methods might conceivably be the best, presenting as an introduction the growth and development of communism, continuing with a description of its theories and methods, and concluding with a comparison of democracy and communism.

BASIC FALLACIES APPARENT

The comparative study can be approached in three ways: Principles versus principles; principles versus reality; or reality versus reality. All too often, the study of communism is a study of democratic principles versus communist principles. This procedure is basically ineffective. It merely provides a detached outlook on the problem, and does nothing to arouse the student's aware sense of the reality of the situation. In the principle versus reality method, the student receives a clear picture of communist actions and a basic understanding of democratic principles. A study of unlike subjects, however, actually accomplishes very little. Reality versus reality is the method nearest to fulfilling the aims, but, by itself, it, too, is only partially effective.

A combination, including the principles and realities of both democracy and communism, is perhaps the best approach. A student with a knowledge of both the successes and deficiencies of democracy can realistically compare them with those of communism. This knowledge can only be obtained if the student is shown where reality has fallen short of principles. Contrary to some beliefs, the high ideals of democracy are not hurt by an honest appraisal of its shortcomings.

Once an understanding of American democracy has been established, the principles of communism can be introduced. After the principles are fully understood, factual evidence of its triumphs and failures should be taught. The basic fallacies of communism will then be apparent.

CITES PROBLEMS

The study of communism should be vivid. It should include not only the political and ideological aspects, but also the economic and social phases. Films and slides show how communism affects its own countries and subjugated people. The geographic

JAYCEES LIST PROJECTS FOR COMING YEAR

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce planned the chapter's projects for the year at the semi-monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening in the Jaycee office at the Community Center.

The chapter will send two boys from the local high school to the State Jaycee Junior Camp Project at Kutztown State College, in June. A budget was partially adopted. Morton Rosen, Harrisburg, a national director, was in attendance. President Richard Selby presided.

The chapter will meet again on Tuesday, May 28, at 8 p.m. The Jaycee board of directors will meet the first Tuesday at 7 p.m.

WCSJ ELECTS

Officers were elected at the May meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Methodist Church, held on Tuesday evening at the church. Elected were: President, Mrs. Ruth Smith; vice president, Mrs. Audrey Osborne; secretary, Mrs. Esther Bechtel; assistant secretary, Miss Susie Furlow; treasurer, Mrs. Marian Study; assistant and architectural beauty of the Soviet Union and Communist China can be compared with the ugliness and heartlessness of communist leaders. Lectures and discussions by refugees are especially effective. A study of the communist party in the United States reveals the situation close at hand. Care should be taken that the teaching methods are unbiased and objective, for students are quick to discern propaganda, and often resent being told what to believe.

Problems are encountered in the teaching of communism. Among them are the lack of qualified teachers and the scarcity of texts and supplements. In many states, programs have been organized to educate teachers and provide bibliographies of available materials. Leading publishers, recognizing the need, are making an effort to provide suitable texts for high school use.

Another major difficulty confronting educators is opposition by parents and other groups who feel that innocent minds should not be subjected to controversial beliefs. They do not realize that one aim of education is to teach youth how to think, and that this can be assisted by presenting issues which require thoughtful consideration.

Regardless of the manner by which communism is taught, the emphasis should lie in the development of educated American citizens, who understand and appreciate their freedom, and who are willing to fight for their beliefs in both peace and war.

SCIENCE GRANT FOR CHEMISTS AT ST. JOSEPH

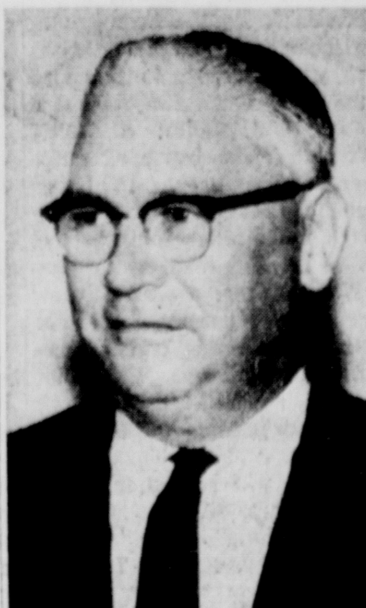

The department of chemistry at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, will enter its fourth year of an undergraduate research participation program supported with a National Science Foundation grant of $2,750. The program, under the direction of Sister Denise Eby, offers chemistry majors the opportunity of participation in an experimental investigation of the physico-chemical properties of anti-cancer agents.

Student research participants reported the results of their work in papers which they read before the Baltimore-Washington regional meeting of student affiliates of the American Chemical Society, and at the Boston meeting of the Eastern Colleges Science Conference held recently. The paper "Physico-Chemical Effects of X-radiation on Mouse Liver," read by sophomore Miss Barbara Gaver, Baltimore, tied for second place at the A.C.S. regional affiliates meeting.

One of the objectives of research participation has been to encourage qualified students to undertake graduate study. This objective has been realized by three June graduates who have been awarded graduate assistantships. They are: Mary Colombrino, Morris Plains, N. J., who will attend St. John's University, Jamaica, N. Y.; Ann Walsh, Mattdale, N. Y., who will attend the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.; and Angela Bialczak, Baltimore, who will attend the University of Maryland in Baltimore.

Future research will require the use of new chemical instrumentation. To this end the department is seeking a matching grant for scientific instructional equipment which will include an infrared spectrophotometer.

Frederic Cox, Southern Hills Rd., York R. 8, vice president and York division manager of Metropolitan Edison Company, has been elected to the company's board of directors. The election announced by W. R. Snyder, Metropolitan Edison president, was made at the annual stockholders' meeting this week at the utility's Reading headquarters. Cox, 57, elected vice president in 1961, has served as York division manager of Metropolitan Edison for the last seven years. He joined the company 37 years ago.

RAISE TAXING POWER OF 3RD CLASS CITIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Bills raising the taxing power of boroughs and third class cities by five mills were passed Wednesday by the House.

The votes were 174-19 on the cities' legislation and 172-18 on the increase in borough taxing authority. Both were sent to the Senate for further action.

Before adjourning for a primary election recess, the House passed 11 other measures and defeated one in a routine session.

LIMITED DEBATE

There was limited debate in contrast to the days of wrangling over a tax program to raise $139 million to balance the 1963-64 general operating budget.

The GOP leadership decided against an attempt to pass the final piece of that package, increasing liquor taxes by 5 percent to bring in $12.5 million. Democrats had promised a lengthy fight against it and the leaders felt the GOP members needed a respite from the two long days of debating over the other tax measures which finally passed Tuesday night.

The defeated bill would have permitted second class township officials to hold quarterly conventions.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

On a vote of 191-0, the House gave final approval to a bill authorizing counties of the fifth to eight classes to set up pension plans. It now goes to Gov. Scranton for final consideration.

Also passed and sent to the governor were Senate bills authorizing payment of second class township treasurers in salaries or wages rather than commissions and permitting four non-physicians (rather than three) to serve on boards of health in third class cities.

Haiti's

Despite the opposition, Duvalier exuded self-confidence as he appealed for better relations with the United States but made plain he would not tolerate outside interference in his rule.

Duvalier assailed the "shortcomings of certain men" in the United States "who should have directed their efforts toward understanding Haiti and its people."

He added, however, that relations between Haiti and the United States are easier at the moment.

SCRANTON IS PLEASED WITH TAX PROGRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says he is "well pleased" with Republican activity in both House and Senate in tackling the problem of taxes to balance his record $1.121 billion budget.

"It forebodes well for the program," Scranton told his weekly news conference Wednesday.

"The morale of Republicans in both houses seems very high."

Scranton was especially laudatory in his comments on the 108 Republican representatives who spearheaded passage of the proposed 5 per cent sales tax and a two-cent-per-pack boost on cigarette taxes in the House.

ASKED ABOUT HORST

"I am extremely proud of the 108 legislators who responsibly met a need in the state and were willing to do so even though raising taxes is never a popular thing," Scranton declared.

Asked about the lone Republican defector, Rep. Enos H. Horst of Franklin County, the governor had this reply:

"Rep. Horst told me that he had made a thorough-going survey of his own particular district and that the people there were opposed to the five per cent sales tax and therefore he would not vote for it."

LIQUOR TAX WEAKENED

Scranton also conceded that a proposed 5 per cent increase on the excise tax on liquor and beer might be weakened by the fact it was not passed this week in the House.

However, he noted quickly the bill had only been initiated this week by Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee. Scranton said, the proposed increase in the liquor levy is expected to produce between $12 and $13 million a year, depending on volume of business.

Emmitsburg

MRS. RALPH LONG

HI 7-2231

EMMITSBURG—The final PTA meeting of the school year was held recently at Mother Seton School. Pierre W. Fontaine, acting president, presided. The meeting opened with a prayer by Sister Agatha, principal. After the reports of the secretary and treasurer, it was announced that a meeting of the old and newly elected officers would be held on June 13. The annual covered dish social for next year will be held at the May meeting and parents of children entering the school in the following fall term will be invited. Parish chairman for the annual bazaar in October was named as follows: Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, Mrs. Edwin Miller; St. Anthony's, Mrs. James Phelan; St. Joseph's, Mrs. Nancy Danner; St. Rita's, Mrs. Fred Sprinkle.

Sister Agatha expressed her thanks to the outgoing officers and announced that in the fall, the girls will wear a different red bow, with a medal of Mother Seton attached, which may be purchased at the school. The children of St. Joseph's Parish will be confirmed on the evening of May 31, in St. Joseph's Church, and wear regular street clothes instead of caps and gowns.

Officers elected are: President from Mt. Carmel Parish, Thurm, Mrs. Loretta O'Donnell; vice president from St. Anthony's Parish, Emmitsburg, William Sanders; secretary from St. Joseph's Parish, Emmitsburg, Mrs. Theresa Hollinger; treasurer from St. Rita's Parish, Blue Ridge Summit, Ernest Edwards. Following the meeting the children of grades one, four and five, presented a program in honor of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, and refreshments were served.

28TH INFANTRY ON LIST FOR EMERGENCY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four National Guard infantry divisions and two guard armored divisions in the East and South have been tagged by the Army for early call-up in the event of an emergency.

The six divisions are the 42nd Infantry of New York, the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts, the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania, the 30th Infantry of North Carolina, the 50th Armored of New Jersey and the 30th Armored of Tennessee.

Also, the 38 Infantry of Indiana and the 47th of Minnesota are known to have special missions assigned to them. They will be sent to reinforce defenses in Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone if an urgent need arises.

The Army has not made known the list of six guard divisions it said would constitute "self sufficient" forces required to perform missions in the early stages of a war, contending that their identity is a security matter under war plans.

However, it freely names the eight regular army divisions which are in its strategic army corps and the first to move in a crisis.

The priority guard divisions, which would back up the regular army's 16, are to be raised to 75 to 80 per cent of their full war strength of about 12,000 men each and given first call on new equipment.

NUCLEAR ISSUE FACES DEBATE

By MAX HARRELSON

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's decision to accept nuclear weapons appeared headed for an early challenge as Canada's new Parliament assembled today amid traditional pomp and ceremony.

No political fireworks were expected at the opening meeting, however. The chief business was the speech from the throne, outlining the new Liberal government's legislative program. Opposition leaders will get a chance Monday to deal with the nuclear issue when they answer the throne speech.

The throne speech usually is read by the governor general, but Chief Justice Robert Taschereau was chosen to substitute for ailing Gov. Gen. Georges Vanier.

Forecasters said the speech would place heavy emphasis on measures to boost Canada's economy.

The federal budget will not be submitted until mid-June.

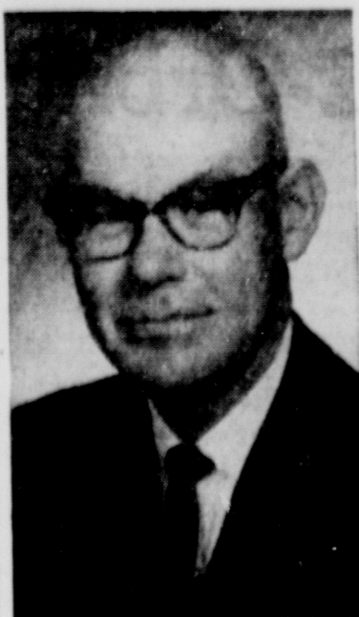

Because the Liberal party has only a minority of the House of Commons seats the debate on the throne speech will have unusual significance. The government could be toppled by a vote of no confidence. Political observers generally predict that the opposition leaders will strike out vigorously at the nuclear decision announced in Hyannis Port, Mass., last Saturday but that they will not try to bring down the government.

The Liberals hold 129 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons. The Conservatives have 96 seats; the Social Credit 23 and the New Democratic party 17. There is one independent Social Credit member.

NEW YORK (AP)—You don't have to be nuts to be a Met baseball fan, but it helps. This is a scientific fact. We got it straight from the psychiatrist's couch.

Intrigued by repeated suggestions that the new breed now whooping it up for Casey Stengel's ragamuffin Polo Grounders consists of a weird mixture of complexes and suppressed desires, we decided to find out for ourselves.

We called the American Mental Health Foundation, Inc.

DOCTORS DIAGNOSIS
The Foundation referred us to Wladimir G. Eliasberg, M.D., Ph.D., psychiatrist, psychoanalyst, psychologist, in New York.

Is it abnormal, the doctor was asked, for people suddenly to go wild over an inept, chronically losing baseball team which is struggling to stay out of the cellar?

"It is mass suggestion," said Dr. Eliasberg, leaning back in the swivel-chair of his elegantly upholstered and carpeted office. "It's a 'mathematical' situation with passions multiplied by the en-masse factor."

"It is as contagious as a disease. When a group stands up and yells wildly—as the Met fans do—no one dares not to follow suit. Failure to do so would mean ostracism."

LIKE DOOMED CAUSES
Why the Mets? Why don't these people unleash their imprisoned emotions on some other team?

"It is characteristic that masses latch on to a cause that apparently is destined for defeat," the psychiatrist explained.

Did the moving of the Giants and Dodgers to the Pacific Coast have anything to do with the growth of this violent new baseball spirit?

"Assuredly," the doctor said. "This is the mechanism of rejection."

SHINY, NEW TOY

How do the Mets satisfy this need?

"The Mets provide a new, shiny toy."

And crusty, 73-year-old Casey Stengel—does he provide the havening Met fans with the father image?

"It's very important," Dr. Eliasberg said. "Just as in politics, this venerable figure offers the added comfort of a father, a leader who knows and can do all."

Why don't they cheer for the Yankees?

"That," replied the doctor, with a knowing smile, "is like cheering for U.S. Steel."

NEW YORK (AP)—If Cassius Clay, the self-proclaimed world's greatest fighter, and Bo Belinsky, the self-proclaimed world's greatest left-handed pitcher, should ever get together, the conversation might well go something like this:

"So you," said Bo Belinsky, "are Cassius Clay. Have you ever had the pleasure of seeing me pitch?"

"And you," said Cassius Clay, "are Bo Belinsky. For you I have a poem."

"Despite your Mamie, I have my doubt,

"That you will ever get anybody out."

"Man, I've read better poetry than that on pool room walls," said Belinsky. "And I know whereof I speak, I hope you can fight better than you can write."

"TALK PRETTY BIG"

"I'm the cat who calls the round," said Cassius Clay. "I'm the greatest fighter in the world. They all must fall in the round I call."

"Except Doug Jones who didn't fall at all," said Belinsky.

"For a 150 pitcher, you talk pretty big," said Cassius.

"I wonder who'll get sick of you first, Mamie or Rig?"

"You made a bum call again, old windy Cassius," said Bo. "Old Bill Rigney and me are real buddies. He can't get along without Bo. And Mamie and me are going to get married the day I win my 20th game."

"JUST ROLLING"

"Then she can buy the wedding license with her Social Security check," said Cassius. "I will add,

"The world will end,

"Before you win ten,

"I'll be rolling in plenty,

"Before you win twenty."

"Not if you fight Sonny Liston," said Bo. "You'll just be rolling."

"That ugly old Liston is afraid of me, man," said Cassius.

"Afraid he'll kill you," said Bo. "Your clippings won't do you any good in there with him. I hear he can't read too good."

Earl Hoffman averaged 21.7 points a game for Penn State's basketball team last season.

NO-HITTER IS RUINED BY CURT

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee's Bob Hendley was within two outs of realizing a pitcher's dream of a no-hitter. Then, according to the young southpaw, "You might say the Flood came."

The 24-year-old Hendley dazzled the St. Louis Cardinals for 8 1/3 innings Wednesday night, but had to settle for a 9-3 victory after Curt Flood broke up a no-hit bid with a triple to right center.

"I knew I had a no-hitter going and wanted it badly," Hendley said. "I was concentrating so hard from the fifth inning on that I think I was in sort of a trance when I went out for the ninth.

Then the roof caved in, but that's the way the ball bounces."

The soft-spoken Georgian started the ninth by getting Julian Javier on a grounder to short. Pinch hitter George Altman reached first as second baseman Frank Bolling bobbled a soft grounder at the edge of the infield grass. Then Flood, a right-handed hitter who had grounded to the left side of the infield on three previous times at bat, strode to the plate.

Astronaut Cooper Roaring Around The World On 22-Orbital Mission

PUBLIC KEPT INFORMED ON SPACE FLIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—As the seconds ticked away, one could feel the mounting tension at Cape Canaveral. It was in the background bustle. It was in the voices of the television and radio commentators, in spite of their best efforts to be brisk and business-like. And it was inside the millions of people who for 24 hours had waited and watched to see the Faith 7 and its human cargo boosted into space.

Later, in the continuing reviews and recaps, on all three major TV networks, through the afternoon and evening, it was merely interesting to see—once again—a huge missile roar into the sky. By then we knew that the launching had been practically perfect and the capsule was in, as they said, "the textbook orbit." But watching it live was something else entirely, even after five other shoots. The viewers' palms were moist, his breath was short at the critical moment.

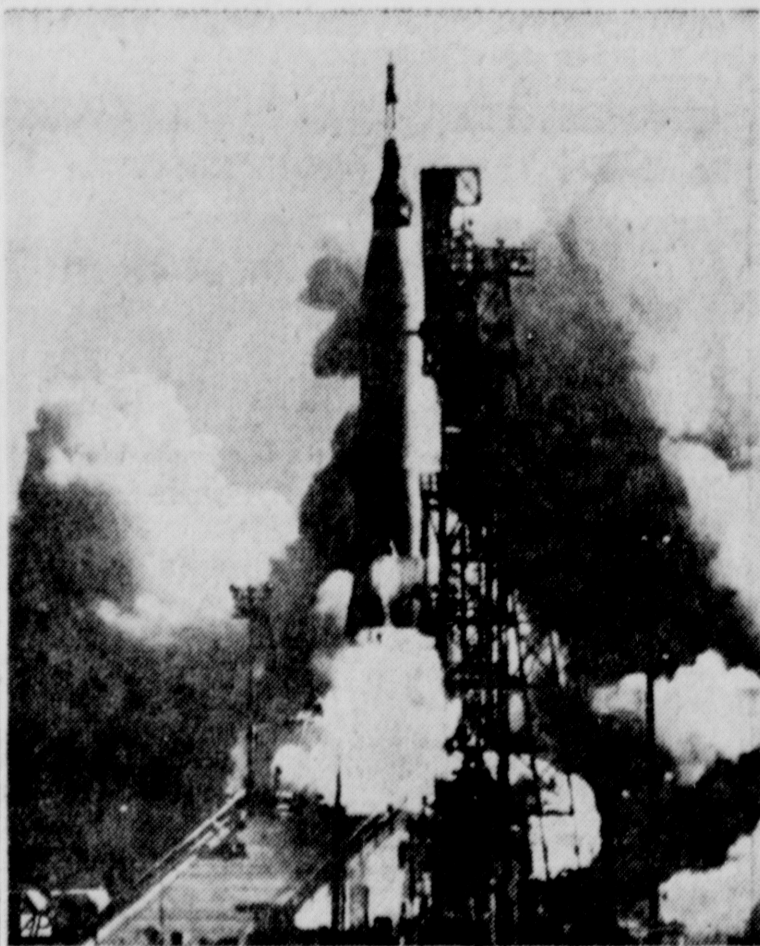

Unfortunately, the television broadcast from the tiny, slow-scan camera inside the capsule, was so fuzzy that the uninitiated could identify little of anything. One gathered that it was the helmet and head of the astronaut at the upper left of the picture but it could have been any object. Maybe it will be better next time.

Throughout the day, the networks followed the flight's progress. There were bulletins on the half hour and there was printed news on the screens, otherwise occupied by the endless parade of time-killing light diversion. Thus we at home knew in remarkable detail the temperature inside the capsule, even inside the suit, the moment the astronaut tried some exercises, started some experiments and even when he decided to eat lunch.

STARTED CONTROVERSY

CBS moved fast Wednesday, chopping approximately in half a scheduled hour-long "CBS Re-

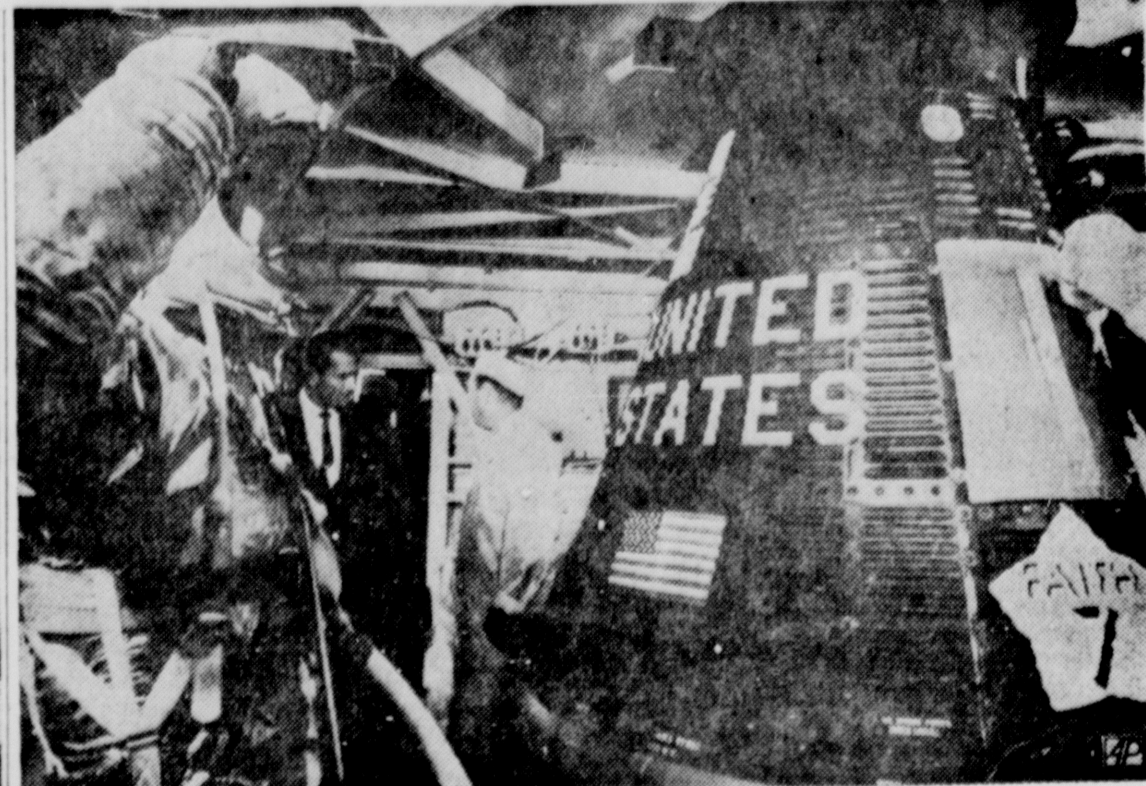

Atlas rocket carrying the space capsule Faith 7 with Astronaut Gordon Cooper leaves the launch pad at Cape Canaveral. It was the start of a marathon space journey for Cooper. ports" and adding a quick postscript to its recent treatment of Rachel Carson's book "Silent Spring." It was broadcast Wednesday night within hours after release of a federal report on insecticides urging more study of their use and effects.

Miss Carson and her book were credited by commentator Eric Sevareid with starting the sharp controversy over the effects of modern chemical killers on the balance of nature and mankind itself. On the program, Miss Carson said she felt vindicated by the report. A spokesman for the chemical industry was given an opportunity to restate its position—that the insecticides are safe if used as directed.

It was smart, alert journalism. And it didn't hurt to edit a dull and meandering exploration of the

FAIRLY BEATS PHILS IN 12TH

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ron Fairly's single to right field brought Jim Gilliam home from second with the winning run last night as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in 12 innings.

Gilliam, who had singled, moved into scoring position in a passed ball by Phillies' catcher Bob Oldis.

Sandy Koufax, making his first start since pitching a no-hitter, gave up 11 hits as he won his fifth victory against a lone defeat.

Johnny Klippstein, the third Phillly hurler, was the loser. Los Angeles batsmen collected eight hits off three pitchers.

The Phillies sent the game into overtime by scoring a run in the ninth inning on Don Demeter's double, a groundout and a bunt by Bobby Wie. This was the first extra inning game the Phillies have lost this season.

Major League Stars

BATTING — Dick Stuart, Red Sox, drove in seven runs in 9-3, 7-6 doubleheader sweep over Los Angeles Angels, hitting grand slam homer in first game and hitting three-run homer in nightcap before scoring winning run in eighth inning.

PITCHING — Bob Hedley, Braves, pitched no-hit ball for 8-13 innings before Curt Flood tripped, wound up with three-hitter and 9-3 victory over St. Louis.

GOALIE CALLED "KEY" PLAYER BY BISON HEAD

NEW YORK (AP)—Denis DeJordy, 24-year-old goalie who backstopped Buffalo's drive to the Calder Cup, is the American Hockey League's most valuable player for 1962-63.

The young goalie, only the second man at his position ever to be named, was called by Buffalo coach Bill Reay "the key man" in the Bisons' acquisition of both the regular season and playoff titles.

DeJordy gained 31 of a possible 45 points in the voting from the nine league cities. He held a whopping edge over Hank Ciesla and Fred Glover, both of Cleveland, who followed with 8 points each, in the results announced by league headquarters Wednesday.

VALUABLE PLAYER

DeJordy allowed 167 goals in 67 regular season games for an average of 2.79, best in the league, and recorded six shutouts. In the playoffs, he had one shutout, allowed 28 goals in 13 games for an average of 2.15.

Johnny Bower, now with Toronto in the NHL, is the only other goalie ever named the league's most valuable player.

Following Ciesla and Glover in the voting for the Leslie Cunningham Plaque were Dave Creighton of Baltimore with 7 points; Ed Chadwick of Hershey, Fernie Edman of Providence, John McKenzie of Buffalo and Bill Sweeney of Springfield, 5 points each; Al Arbour of Rochester, 3 points; Marc Reaume of Hershey, 2 points; and Willie Marshall of Jersey and Aldo Guidoin of Baltimore, 1 each.

NATIONALS TO MOVE TO PHILA.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Subject to league approval, the Syracuse Nationals of the National Basketball Association have been sold to a group of Philadelphia businessmen who plan to move the club to Philadelphia.

Sale of the club for $500,000 was announced late Wednesday night by owner Dan Biasone, who said "it simply got to be impossible to operate." The Nats had been fixtures in Syracuse for 17 years but despite their 48-32 record and second place finish in the Eastern Division last season, the club lost $39,000.

Although the Philadelphia group was not identified at its request, Biasone said the sale was handled by the Philadelphia law firm of Richman, Price and Jamieson.

In Philadelphia, Isaac Richman of the firm said the new owners are a group of businessmen not connected before with sports. He said Eddie Gottlieb, former owner of the Philadelphia Warriors, is not a member of the group. He refused to identify the businessmen and when asked if he thought the league would approve of them, said: "These men are reputable."

Philadelphia has been without an NBA franchise since the Warriors were sold and moved to San Francisco before last season.

EIGHT ENTERED IN PREAKNESS

BALTIMORE (AP)—Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay drew seven other 3-year-olds today as challengers to his attempt Saturday to annex the 87th Preakness, the second leg of horse racing's triple crown.

There was only one surprise entry, William Robinson's Rural Retreat, who finished second in last Saturday's Preakness Prep. If all eight start, the winner will be awarded a whopping $127,500 and the three behind him will divide $52,500.

Chateaugay, owned by John P. Galbreath of Columbus, Ohio, will start from the middle of the pack in the No. 4 post position. On My Honor, owned by Michael and Jack Stein of Los Angeles, drew the rail position. T. D. Buhl's Lemon Twist, last week's Illinois Derby champion, will be between him and Chateaugay.

Harry F. Guggenheim's Never Bend, second in the Derby at Louisville two weeks ago, will break from No. 5. Mrs. C. D. Morgan's Sky Wonder No. 6. Rura Retreat No. 7 and Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, third in the Derby and the betting favorite, will be on the outside.

All starters will carry 126 lbs. in the 1 3-16 mile Preakness.

VATICAN POST FOR CARDINAL

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The Vatican, the United States and Hungary's Communist government reportedly have reached an agreement that will allow Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave for Rome.

High Vatican sources said they expected the 71-year-old Roman Catholic primate of Hungary in Rome in a few days to assume a high Vatican post.

Informants in Budapest reported Wednesday night that long negotiations proved fruitful.

Freeing of the cardinal would remove one barrier to resumption of normal diplomatic relations between the United States and Hungary and would improve relations between the Vatican and the Hungarian government.

No information was available on details of the agreement, but it is believed to include other concessions to the Vatican.

The Hungarian Communist sentenced the prelate to life imprisonment in 1949 for alleged high treason. Liberated in the 1956 uprising, he took refuge in the U.S. Legation in Budapest when the Soviets crushed the revolt and he has been there ever since.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

INTRUDER: A man raced past uniformed guards at the front gate of the White House Wednesday and ran 15 to 20 yards inside the grounds before he was overtaken.

He was grabbed in an arm lock, deposited in a patrol wagon and whisked away before newsmen reached the scene—and ran into a stone wall of silence set up by White House officials.

The account of the intrusion was supplied by a number of bystanders. According to one report he carried a pair of scissors. Asked about this, a White House police officer said: "Whatever he had was taken away."

The northwest gate to the White House grounds on Pennsylvania avenue was open because a group of congressional wives was leaving the executive mansion after a luncheon.

Washington police identified the intruder as Edgar L. Clayborn, 34, of no fixed address. He was taken to District General Hospital for mental observation.

GUARD: The Army has identified four National Guard infantry divisions and two armored Guard divisions in the East and South as ones that would be called up early in the event of emergency.

The identification Wednesday was a change in long-standing policy. The Army had refused to identify the six, saying their disposition is a security matter under war plans.

The six priority divisions are the 42nd Infantry of New York, the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts, the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania, the 30th Infantry of North Carolina, the 50th Armored of New Jersey and the 30th Armored of Tennessee.

At the same time, the Army said the 38th Infantry of Indiana and the 47th Infantry of Minnesota have been assigned special missions. The announcement did not say so, but it is known the two divisions would be sent to reinforce Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone in an emergency.

VA HOUSING: The Veterans Administration reports veterans housing activities increased in three of four categories during April.

VA housing starts climbed from 4,924 in March to 7,241 in April. Appraisal requests for existing units rose from 14,785 in March to 16,693, and applications for home loan guaranty climbed from 15,069 to 16,996.

Appraisal of new units declined from 13,254 in March to 12,161 in April.

RED OFFICIAL IS EXECUTED

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass said today Oleg Penkovsky has been executed in accordance with the sentence pronounced last Saturday in the spy case involving Greville Wynne, a British businessman.

The Soviet news agency said the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet rejected an appeal for clemency by Penkovsky, 44, sentenced to death after being convicted of high treason. He was shot. Penkovsky was a former deputy chief of the State Committee on Scientific Research and Coordination.

Wynne, also 44, was sentenced to eight years in confinement. He contended before the military court which tried him with Penkovsky that he had been tricked by the British intelligence service into serving as a courier for Soviet military, political and economic secrets ferreted out by Penkovsky. The court ruled the two were members of a spy network that fed 5,000 films of secret Soviet documents to the West in 16 months.

Uncertain Whether Cooper Napped Or Took Catnaps

By JOHN BARBOUR

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Call it nonchalance, or just easy going, but sometimes—with in the privacy of his sky cabin—it's hard to tell whether astronaut Gordon Cooper is awake or asleep. Even in the last tense minutes, waiting to blast off, Cooper may have dozed off.

Again—in some quiet moments as he approached the California coast on his second orbit—Cooper dropped off to sleep again.

Finally after 12 hours and 40 minutes in space, Cooper reached the 10-hour period circumscribed as a "don't call me, I'll call you" time in which he could rest undisturbed by calls from the ground.

It took him barely five minutes to relax to the point where his doctors could say it appeared he was asleep.

The doctors say Cooper was very near sleep, if not actually dozing at a time during the last 60 minutes of his countdown.

SLEEPING PATTERN
They watched on the instruments as his breathing rate fell to a sleeping pattern of about 12 breaths a minute, and became very regular, and his heart indicated sleep too.

They got the same report from the astronaut's body Wednesday night as he passed over Ascension Island, about five minutes after his rest period began. Being considerate fellows, they didn't ring him up and ask if he was asleep.

Unlike most bosses, space officials don't look down on this kind of catnap on the job. Also unlike most bosses they can tell whether an astronaut is dozing because the space pilot's body is wired with sensors that tattle on him—take his electrocardiogram, breathing rate, temperature and so forth.

Actually his doctors were happy to see him napping earlier in the flight because it indicated he would have little trouble sleeping during the rest period.

Soviet Trawler Near Flight Path

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A Soviet trawler of the type the Soviets use for electronic snooping was sighted today near a U.S. ship monitoring astronaut Gordon Cooper's space flight, an informed source said.

A U.S. destroyer sighted the trawler in international waters in the general vicinity of the American ship Coastal Sentry, which is monitoring Cooper's flight and control his re-entry at the end of the 22-orbit flight.

The trawler's mission has not been determined, the source said.

MRS. COOPER PLANS FLIGHT

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Gordon Cooper was planning a flight of her own today as her astronaut husband whizzed around the earth, making American space history.

Mrs. Cooper, a pretty brunette, said she planned to take her teenage daughters with her when she flies to Hawaii Friday for a reunion with Cooper if his 34-hour, 22-orbit flight ends in the Pacific as scheduled.

Trudy Cooper saw on television Wednesday what she termed a "beautiful" launch for her husband's Faith 7 capsule. She and her two daughters, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13, talked with Cooper by telephone just before the near-perfect blastoff at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The family watched the launching on four television sets in their brick and stone ranch-style home 25 miles east of downtown Houston.

Following the launching Mrs. Cooper entertained wives of other astronauts. In all, the wives of 10 astronauts—old and new—visited the Cooper home.

A ham loaf in the oven? Bake some bananas to go along with this meat. Roll the bananas in sugar, melted butter or margarine and then dust with nutmeg; place in a pie plate and let them bake the last 10 to 15 minutes that the ham loaf is in the oven.

Cooper Log

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Here is the orbit-by-orbit log of Gordon Cooper's space flight, following the blastoff at 8:04 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Wednesday.

Orbit 1
8:18 a.m.—The first pictures of Cooper were televised to earth.

9:31 a.m.—Cooper told astronaut Virgil I. Grissom at Guaymas, Mexico, that the flight was "quite a thrill." He reported seeing the earth's haze layer, John H. Glenn Jr.'s "fireflies," or bits of frost glistening in the sun, and the lights of Perth, Australia.

Orbit 2
11 a.m.—Cooper observed as he passed over California, "I had a little nap."

Orbit 3
11:29 a.m.—Cooper released a small sphere with two bright flashing lights for an experiment in judging distances as the sphere drifted away from the capsule.

12:46 p.m.—Mercury Control said Cooper was off on a "text-book flight."

2 p.m.—Trudy Cooper heard her husband's voice in their Houston home and said it was "most reassuring."

2:02 p.m.—Asked if he had yet sighted the flashing light sphere, Cooper said, "Affirm. I was with that little rascal all night last night."

Orbit 4
2:31 p.m.—Cooper described how he saw the flashing beacon. "I yawned around 180 degrees and all of a sudden I saw it rising up from below me. I could see it shining before I could see it flashing, so apparently I was getting some sunlight off it."

3:01 p.m.—Mercury Control said Cooper's use of electricity and fuel were lower than called for in the flight plan.

Orbit 5
5:07 p.m.—Cooper, over Hawaii, disclosed he had tried to deploy and inflate a balloon, but that it was a failure.

Orbit 6
6:07 p.m.—Cooper was told he could try for 17 orbits.

Orbit 7
7:34 p.m.—The capsule cabin temperature had stabilized at about 67 degrees. He discussed with Zanzibar, Africa, a discrepancy in his cabin clock.

Orbit 8
8:47 p.m.—Cooper told the Rose Knot Victor tracking ship about 3,000 miles off the Chilean coast that he was starting his rest period.

Orbit 9
10:32 p.m.—Cooper continued drifting in a rest period.

11:02 p.m.—Cooper apparently was asleep as he passed over the ship, Coastal Sentry, south of Japan.

11:22 p.m.—Telemetry to Canton Island showed 82 per cent of the automatic fuel left and 90 per cent in the manual fuel system.

Orbit 10
12:01 a.m.—Cooper was over the tip of Brazil and presumed asleep.

1:01 a.m.—Cooper had been in orbit 16 hours and 58 minutes, nearly the halfway point of the projected voyage. Referring to his sudden increase in heartbeats, Mercury Control said "The thought now is that Gordon perhaps awoke and reset one of his suit temperatures because it had risen approximately 20 degrees." Over Kano, Nigeria, suit temperature had dropped back to normal.

Orbit 11
1:31 a.m.—Past the halfway point now, Cooper still slept. Asked how he kept the sunlight out of his eyes, Mercury Control said there was a curtain that could be drawn over the capsule window.

Orbit 12
3:31 a.m.—With the capsule in drifting flight, telemetry showed Cooper still in "sleep configuration."

Orbit 13
5:26 a.m.—The Muechea, Australia, tracking station "suddenly heard a familiar voice and it was that of Gordon Cooper." The astronaut said he had slept "pretty good." He confirmed that he had some discomfort with the suit during the night, but had corrected it quickly.

6:05 a.m.—Talking to Cape Canaveral, Cooper said he did not have any dreams.

Orbit 15
6:32 a.m.—Cooper told the Zanzibar track station he had used only 25 per cent of his primary oxygen supply and that he had not yet eaten anything since waking up. Asked how he felt he said: "Just fine. Excellent."

7:31 a.m.—Mercury Control reported fuel and supply factors were well above expected levels. Auxiliary oxygen supplies had not even been touched.

Orbit 16
7:41 a.m.—He soared on over the Atlantic.

8:25 a.m.—Muechea, Australia, station relayed word from Mercury Control Center that Cooper had a go-ahead for a full 22-orbit mission. "Roger, very good," the astronaut commented.

8:30 a.m.—Using a 35mm robot still camera, Cooper snapped pictures of the zodiacal light, a nebulous glow seen on the horizon at sunrise and sunset, and the colorful airglow layer above the horizon.

9:02 a.m.—The pilot oriented Faith 7 so he could take a series of eight horizon pictures for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. MIT will use the photos to determine if the horizon can be used as a guidance reference for returning moonships.

FIRST FAMILY LIKES RETREAT AT CAMP DAVID

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy have "discovered" and grown to love what may be the only place in the world where the nation's first family can enjoy complete privacy.

This unusual retreat is Camp David, Md., a Navy-operated reservation atop one of the Catskill Mountains some 65 miles north of Washington.

Although three earlier presidents used the camp, Kennedy and his family only began making regular visits this spring—more or less as a matter of necessity. But now they can hardly tear themselves away, even to go to the usual Kennedy summering spot at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The first family's newly found love of Camp David was understood to be an important factor in Mrs. Kennedy's decision, announced Wednesday, to delay her summer trip to Hyannis Port from May until late June or July.

Here is perhaps the principal reason why the Kennedys have come to look forward to their weekends at Camp David:

The heavily wooded reservation encompasses 129 acres surrounded by high wire fence closely patrolled by armed Marine guards. This means that, within the vast compound, Kennedy and members of his family can roam freely without Secret Service agents at their elbows—or even within sight.

PRIVACY
That's why Camp David may be the only place in the world where an American president can walk for miles and never see another human being.

In addition to this rare privacy, the camp affords a wide variety of recreational facilities for the President and his family. There is an athletic field, a swimming pool, two tennis courts, a bowling alley, a multi-tee, one-hole golf course, and a skeet shooting range. And there is Aspen Lodge, a large rustic home with a glassed-in porch, outdoor terrace and eye-catching view of mountains and valleys.

MOTORIST KILLED

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—A Lawrence County motorist was killed today when his car struck a toll booth at the Gateway Interchange on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN—P. H. Cunningham, general manager of Radio Station WGCT, Gettysburg, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club this evening at 7 o'clock in the Starlite Room, Dutcher's Restaurant. His message will be in keeping with the national observance, May—Radio Month. He will be introduced by Richard Selby, chairman of the publicity committee, in charge of the evening's program.

Cub Scout Den 8 met Wednesday evening at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Ruth Stonestifer, S. Queen St. The opening flag ceremony was in charge of Randy Reinman, who also presented a puppet skit. The boys then went to the Herbert Sterner farm, near town, where they enjoyed pony rides. The Cubs were accompanied by Mrs. Stonestifer, Mrs. Katherine Hall and Mrs. Mary Hull.

was John M. Walker Jr., 25, of New Castle.

State police said Walker's vehicle swerved out of control after he apparently fell asleep.

BILL WILL END 'GRAVY TRAIN' ON INSURANCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House State Government Committee approved today a bill ending insurance patronage by the state and its independent agencies.

"The State Government Committee feels the insurance 'gravy train' has made its last run," said Chairman George Heffner, R-Schuylkill.

He added a prediction that the measure "will pass the House." "I would say there wouldn't be more than 15 votes against it," added Rep. Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan.

FAVOR FOLLOWERS

Under present laws, commissions on insurance purchased by the state and such agencies as the General State Authority has been distributed to insurance brokers friendly with political leaders of the state.

This practice has been justified by state officials in the past under the law that prohibits kickbacks of commissions on insurance to persons purchasing the insurance.

The new bill proposes that the state secretary of property and supplies be the designated insurance broker for the state, its boards and agencies and that any fees received from insurance be deposited in the general fund.

Rep. H. Jack Seltzer, R-Lebanon, said he was advised that commissions paid out as patronage over the past four years amounted to $556,000.

Lee has been a long-time advocate of legislation to end the insurance patronage. He, Heffner, Seltzer and Rep. Austin M. Lee, R-Phila., sponsored the measure approved by the committee.

It will now go before the full House for further action.

CHICKEN HITS BOTTOM PRICE ON FOOD LISTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The housewife who serves chicken this weekend can serve a main course that costs only about 20 cents a person.

However, beef is an attractive alternative.

Chickens are now at or near their lowest prices of the year, reflecting a 4 per cent rise in production.

Prices are running about the same as last year's seasonal low level of about 39 cents a pound, though surveys show that buyers who snatch up bargain attractions can save as much as 30 per cent.

Beef is another attraction for bargain hunters.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Public officials and legislators in Kentucky must swear that they have never fought a duel — or have been a second at a duel.

This is required in Kentucky's constitution, which was adopted in 1891.

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Acting Gov. Jack Gage recently visited a Laramie newspaper office and absent-mindedly flipped a match into the wastebasket.

It charred a picture — one of Gage signing a proclamation for National Fire Prevention Week.

York outlets.

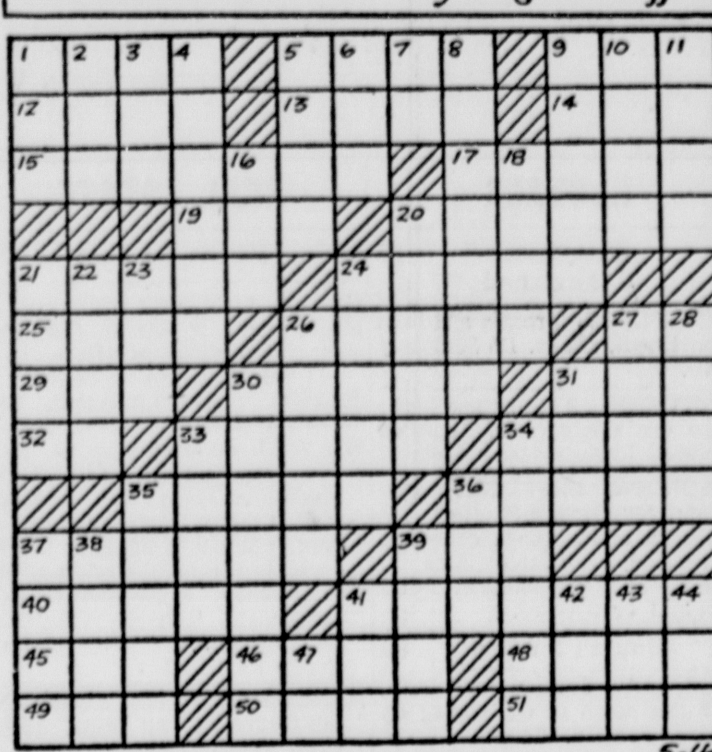

Beef cuts also were lower in most other parts of the country, including the Far West, while pork prices generally were rising.

Cottage cheese and several other cheeses are down in price in many markets. Egg and milk prices have slipped a cent or two a quart in some areas.

Vegetable bargains include celery, sweet corn and onions.

Fruit prospects are less cheering, with citrus supply running from 26 per cent smaller for oranges to 31 per cent smaller for lemons. That's the winter freeze, still making itself felt.

Annual French Poster Contest Is Conducted In Many U.S. High Schools

Scott Stapleton, Fanwood, N.J., Wins First Prize In French Poster Contest

The Charm of Touraine, the theme of this year's annual French poster contest, sponsored by Omega chapter of Pi Delta Phi of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Md., inspired hundreds of high school participants throughout 46 states.

Twenty-five dollars were awarded to the first place winner Scott Stapleton, of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, Fanwood, N.J., for his poster entitled "Le Voici Charmé de la Touraine." Second and third place awards of $15 and $10 were captured by John Kwiatkowski of Central Catholic High School, Toledo, O., and by Jeff McKinley, Campbell High School, Campbell, Calif.

FOUR JUDGES

The judges were Johanna Armstrong, Ph.D., St. Thomas University, Houston, Texas; Irene Jackson, North Carolina College, Durham, N.C.; Barbara Long, Wisconsin State College, Eau Claire, Wisc., and Paul Langelier, Adelphi College, Garden City.

Mindful of the aim and theme of the contest, the entering students composed an original slogan in French to correspond to their poster. Using a nom de plume the student artists further revealed their originality.

Additional awards to the other top 10 winners included art books and bronze medals donated by the Ambassade de France and prizes donated by Air France and the French Book Guild in New York.

WIN TWO AWARDS

St. Louis, Mo., students captured the next two places. Mary Hellmuth came in fourth and Patricia Armstrong followed in fifth place. Also from Campbell, Calif.,

SCOTT STAPLETON

was the next winner, Ken Poisson, and heading east again to Bogata, N.J., comes seventh place with Linda Fennimore of Bogata High School. The next two winners, also of Campbell High, were Leslie Greer in eighth place and Rick Gutman in ninth place. Maureen Harvey of St. Louis, Mo., completes the list of the 10 top posters indicating the Charm of Touraine.

Mary Beth O'Brien, a Sophomore French major at Saint Joseph College, was student chairman of this annual project of Pi Delta Phi.

The list of honorable mentions include: Richard Santos, Saratoga, Calif.; Ann Withers, St. Louis, Mo.; Regina Markmann, Atlantic City, N.J.; Paul Roberts, Avon, Conn.; Constance Whalen, Ardmore, Pa.; Susan Mahe, St. Louis, Mo.; Diane Hamilton, Saratoga, Calif.; Thomas Tragardh, Campbell, Calif.; Elaine Sergie, Philadelphia, Pa.; Anita Glassman, Queens, N.Y.

Miss Krieger Wins Coveted Award

By LORETTA BYRNE

The Omega Chapter of Pi Delta Phi awarded the Jules A. Vern Award to Miss Ellen Krieger, '63 of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Md.

A spry French major from Baltimore, Miss Krieger has participated beaucoup in the affairs of the club. As a Sophomore she held the office of treasurer in the Omega Chapter and, during the Junior and Senior years she was the club secretary. Her interest in French has not solely limited itself to the paper work of her chapter. During three semesters Miss Krieger assumed the role of la maitresse for about an hour a week as she instructed a mixed class of Seventh and Eighth Graders of Mother Seton School with the fundamentals de français. This year Miss Krieger served as French Day chairman and insured the success of the program, La Chanson Populaire de France, by her effervescence, continual work and sincere interest. Congratulations a Ellen!

HONOR PROFESSOR

In 1958 the national executive committee of Pi Delta Phi established a memorial award in honor of Professor Jules A. Vern of the University of Houston. At Saint Joseph College it has become an annual award. The award is made to an undergraduate for excellence in French and for outstanding ing activity in his chapter. The award itself is a one-year subscription to "La Bayou," a French literary review of international reputation. "La Bayou" was founded by Professor Vern in 1936 and was under his direction until 1956.

French National Honor Society, Pi Delta Pi, Was Founded In 1906

The role of modern languages is assuming an ever increasing importance in the academic curriculum of our colleges and universities. The professors in this area of studies are elated over the change of attitude and feel a certain vindication of the long struggle which they have maintained over the years.

Surveys show a remarkable rise in the number of students who are taking a modern language not only as a degree requirement but who intend to make it a major field of concentration or a teaching sequence. These students who "go on" deserve recognition and encouragement in one form or another. One of the most attractive inducements is the knowledge that by outstanding work they will be permitted to become a member of a national language society and to wear its key.

FOUNDED IN 1906

The French National Honor Society, Pi Delta Phi, was established at the University of California at Berkeley in 1906. It is the oldest of the language societies. During the ensuing 50 years, the fortunes of Pi Delta Phi fluctuated with the national and international vicissitudes which influenced greatly the academic atmosphere of this country. In recent years the society has enjoyed vigorous growth and will, before the end of 1963, number 100 chapters in leading colleges and universities.

The goal of the society, "Let us advance the cause of France" has been constantly fostered by the officers, the moderators of the chapters and thousands of members. Their activities reach into every facet of accomplishment in the areas of development and diffusion of the French language, literature and culture in this country. They are responsible for the national stimulus given to the French on both the academic and nonacademic levels. Many of the distinguished professors and teachers of French and members of the diplomatic corps cherish their active association with Pi Delta Phi. Since membership is given primarily to outstanding students of French we can confidently look forward to the time when our alumni are in direct control of the development and orientation of French studies in the United States.

DR. J. W. YEDLICKA

ment and orientation of French studies in the United States.

ACADEMIC SOCIETY

A purely academic society, Pi Delta Phi offers two scholarships annually to outstanding students in order that they may continue higher studies in French; it conducts the poster-slogan contest each year for high school students throughout the country with remarkable success; it participates directly in "The Experiment in International Living." The leading review published in French in the United States, "La Bayou," is under the direction of one of the national officers of the society.

The dynamic role of Pi Delta Phi in advancing the cause of France has been frequently recognized by the French government which has decorated a number of the officers and illustrious members who have given so generously of their time and talent to bring about the realization of the aims of the society which have remained unchanged since its establishment at the beginning of the century.

The officers are: President, Joseph W. Yedlicka, De Paul University, Chicago, Ill.; first vice president, Sister Eloise Therese, Mt. St. Mary's College, Los Angeles, Calif.; second vice president, Sister Margaret, Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Md.; executive secretary, Louis E. Richter, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Ore.

Four Apply For Admission To Laval Univ.

This year, for the first time, students from Saint Joseph College have participated in a program which is gaining increasing popularity on many campuses—the "Junior year abroad" program. Under this program students spend their Junior year studying at a college or university in another country. Five students, Caroline Cox, Mary Jo Roos, Kathleen Curran, Maureen Fahey and Virginia Wagner, have just completed their Junior year at Laval University in Quebec, Canada.

Under this program French majors take courses which are given in French at a special Junior year program conducted at Laval and limited to about 30 students each year. Their credits are then transferable to Saint Joseph College where they are applied toward their degrees. Applicants are required to pass an entrance examination before admittance to the program.

LIVE OFF CAMPUS

The students live off campus in apartments or with Canadian families. Frequent visits to Montreal and participation in the annual winter carnival are among the social highlights of their year in Canada. Students enjoy a casual and friendly relationship with their professors which gives them a further opportunity to absorb the French language and culture.

This program has been so successful that four other students from Saint Joseph's have applied for admittance to Laval for the coming year. They are: Nancy Bonk, New Jersey; Betty Mooney, New Jersey; Margaret Mullahy, New York and Mary Beth O'Brien, Potsdam, N.Y.

Wins Teaching Assistantship At Missouri U.

Loretta Byrne, Senior Pi Delta Phi member, has been awarded a graduate teaching assistantship in French for the academic year 1963-64 at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Mo. Miss Byrne will have the title of assistant instructor in French and will conduct one five-hour course in elementary or intermediate French each semester.

While teaching, Loretta is required to take a total of 32 hours of courses for her Master's degree. At the university a thesis is optional but it would count eight hours toward the final 32. Loretta plans to major in French and minor in English or education and eventually to teach on the college level.

Patricia Hopkins, former Pi Delta Phi president, is presently at the University of Missouri on a three-year NDEA fellowship toward her Ph.D. in French.

"... I've grown very fond of surrealism, which is a total shock to me, and I even bought a book of Apollinaire's poems just for fun. As a matter of fact, most of fact, most of my courses are kind of pleasant ..."

Kathleen Seely, presently enjoying life in Nevers, France, as a recipient of a French government assistantship, writes frequently of her travels. The latest reads:

"Tuesday we left for Madrid, passing through Cordoue where we visited the mosque. Wednesday we went to Toledo and saw El Greco's house, the cathedral and museum which really impressed me as I just love his works."

Omega Chapter Brings France To Saint Joseph

Omega Chapter of Pi Delta Phi transported France to Emmitsburg on Wednesday, March 27, the annual French Day, the culmination of the year's activities. Members dressed in the patriotic blue, white and red of the tricolor; bulletin boards sloganized the theme, "La Chanson Populaire de France." In the DuBois dining hall French music serenaded students as they chose their meals from the cuisine of that country. Publicity on campus in the form of posters and a display in the Sister Paula Dunn Library proclaimed the activities of the day. Whether or not students of Saint Joseph College were students of the language, they tasted vicariously some of the French culture.

ATTEND MASS

Members attended Mass in the morning, then reunited at 5 p.m. to recite the Rosary in French. A "soiree" in the Green Room, to which the college faculty, students and friends were invited, followed dinner. This featured folk songs of the provinces and the film fantasy, "The Red Balloon." A chorus of chapter members provided the vocal entertainment. In order to facilitate comprehension for those who did not speak French, several of the songs were dramatized and the entire program was narrated in English.

Loretta Byrne, Cathy Kochanski and Alice Jean Syeles added a Mitch Miller touch so that everyone could sing along. Piano soloist Jose Terrassa, a Mount Saint Mary's student and member of the National French Honor Society, played Debussy's "Clair de Lune." Eight First Grade students of Mother Seton School, under the direction of their teacher, Joan Finn, Junior French major, sang and dramatized the popular "Sur le Pont d'Avignon." The musical charm of "The Red Balloon" terminated the program.

ATTEND CONVENTION

During the Christmas holidays Loretta Byrne, Cathy Kochanski, Ellen Krieger, Mary Jo Roos and Alice Jean Syeles attended the national convention at Trinity College in Washington, D. C. At the business meeting in the afternoon, Sister Margaret Flinton, D.U., moderator of Chapter Omega, was elected to the office of second vice president. That evening at the banquet Edouard Morot-Sir, director of French Cultures Services, addressed the group.

The monthly meetings of the Saint Joseph College chapter varied in content. Members viewed "La Vie d'Albert Schweitzer" during October and in November saw slides of Paris and Rome photographed by Edward Pasquale, a Mount Saint Mary's member of Pi Delta Phi, during his tour of Europe last summer. Christmas was celebrated by the surprise appearance of "Pere Noel" and carolling in French. In March the group listened to and discussed a tape recording of Jean Anouilh's comedy "Lacordaire." At the final meeting Colonel and Madame Berdjis of Fort Detrick, Md., presented an illustrated lecture which introduced members to the architecture, principal cities and people of Iran.

Though the activities of Pi Delatans differed through the year, all aimed toward their one goal, the diffusion and advancement of French culture.

Omega Names New Officers

Omega Chapter of Pi Delta Phi elected the following officers for 1963-64 on Tuesday evening, May 7: Mary Jo Roos, president; Ellen Krieger, secretary; Barbara Hogan, treasurer, and Roxanne McCauley, poster contest chairman.

Outgoing officers are Catharine Kochanski, president; Ellen Krieger, secretary; Ellen Dougherty, treasurer, and Mary O'Brien, poster contest chairman.

Miss Kochanski received recognition for her year's leadership. Chapter moderator Sister Margaret Flinton presented the gift as a token of the appreciation felt by all Omega members.

Since president-elect Mary Jo Roos recently completed her Junior year at Laval University, Quebec, Miss Kochanski will continue her presidential duties until the close of the school year.

Miss Hogan To Spend Summer At Laval Univ.

Miss Barbara Hogan, a Sophomore at Saint Joseph College and a member of Pi Delta Phi, will journey to Quebec this summer to further her French education. A French and mathematics major, Miss Hogan has been awarded a full tuition scholarship for the 28th French summer school session at Laval University. Such scholarships are granted through Laval to college and university French departments and candidates then apply through the head of their department. Usually a series of competitive examinations determine the recipient of the award.

MUST USE FRENCH

Once at Laval, the oldest French-speaking university in America, Miss Hogan will be placed according to initial tests given at registration. Courses in French conversation, phonetics, literature and folklore are offered. Students must use French in their contacts, both with the teaching staff and with other students. All courses are given by professors who speak French as their native tongue.

In order that they might fully benefit from the rich cultural heritage which Canada's oldest city offers, summer school students live with French families. In addition they are asked to sign a pledge requiring them to speak only French during their residence in Quebec.

Miss Hogan's classes will extend from June 28 through August 10.

Cathy Kochanski, outgoing president of Omega chapter, is shown handing over the official banner to incoming officers: Ellene Dougherty, secretary; Mary Roxanne McCauley, poster-slogan contest chairman; Barbara Hogan, treasurer. Mary Jo Roos, president, had not yet returned from her junior year abroad.

Sister Margaret, chairman of the modern language department at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, watches Mary Beth O'Brien (standing), and Betty Mooney, Nancy Bonk and Margaret Mullahy map route to Quebec where they will spend their junior year at Laval.

Chairman's Thank You

As I look back now to the day when the first poster arrived, I realize that I never imagined how great a success the contest would be! Two hundred thirty-five posters, each so well done, revealed to me how many clever approaches there are to the theme "The Charm of Touraine." As contest chairman, I want to express my sincere thanks to all the participants for their time and talent. Not to go unmentioned, are my fellow Pi Delta Phi members whose generous help and time I truly appreciate. Merci encore une fois!

Sincerely,
Mary Beth O'Brien

It is with considerable pleasure that, we, friends of Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Maryland, extend our warmest congratulations to the school and to the French Department for its achievements in the foreign language field especially its Poster Contest.

PROUD MOTHER SEES TAKEOFF OF SPACE SHIP

By BOB SHAW

TECUMSEH, Okla. (AP)—"Don't you know Gordon is thrilled!" proud Mrs. Hattie Cooper exclaimed Wednesday morning as her astronaut son's space rocket knifed through the sky.

Tears were the visible emotion from her mother and the astronaut's grandmother, Mrs. Orena Herd, who rocked more and more slowly in a chair a few steps away from Mrs. Cooper.

With them to watch the countdown and eventual successful blastoff were Mrs. Herd's pastor, the Rev. Roma Stewart; a neighbor, Mrs. Mattie Hartoon, and a half dozen newsmen.

TENSE MOMENT

"Butterflies is right," Mrs. Cooper admitted when a newsmen casually remarked that the mounting tension created stomach butterflies.

For about 15 minutes — five minutes before and until ten minutes after blastoff—about the only audible sounds came from a tiny bell and a chattering parakeet in the dining room.

Mrs. Herd said nothing. At blastoff, her rocking chair stopped there was a faint sobbing and tears swelled in her eyes.

HEAR VOICE

"Can you imagine that that's Gordon," Mrs. Cooper said when the voice of her son in the orbiting space vehicle was heard for the first time on television.

Mrs. Herd said, "I'm giving the good Lord the praise. He's directing it. I'm just thankful to the good Lord that He gave him a good start."

"Sure I'm proud of Gordon. I'm always proud of him."

For Mrs. Cooper, the successful start of the flight came just one day before her 63rd birthday.

Both women said they got a good night's sleep and were up about 4 a.m.

Mrs. Cooper, of Carbondale, Colo., planned to remain here in the home of her mother for the remainder of the flight.

DIES OF INJURIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Carol Ann Krushinski, 5, one of six kindergarten children injured May 8 in a traffic accident on Derry street, died Monday night in Harrisburg Hospital.

Mrs. Jean Herrold, 35, driver of the car which crashed into a pole after swerving to avoid a bus, and the other five children suffered injuries in the crash.

The only National League player to wear uniform No. 13 is pitcher Dick Farrell of the Houston Colts. In the American League No. 13 is worn by outfielder Bill Tuttle of Minnesota and pitchers Steve Barber of Baltimore and Bill Faul of Detroit.

REMEDY FOR OILY HAIR. A lovely asks: Are sunbaths a help to oily hair? I have heard opinions pro and con. In any case, what really is a good treatment for excess oil?

The Answer: Sun definitely has a drying effect on the hair. Because of it, hair already in a dry condition should not be exposed. Short exposures are of some benefit to oily tresses, but "frying" cannot be recommended. Left to sizzle, the ends become brittle and discolored. Then you have several disorders where once you had only one.

An efficient remedial program for an oily head—scalp and hair—follows:

- Keep hair as short as is consistent with becomingness and manageability. The shorter it is, the more convenient it is to treat. Also dress it away from the face. Through contact with oil-laden locks, the skin is known to develop blemishes.

- Shampoo at least twice weekly and do use a corrective suds. When feasible air-dry outdoors in the shade. Indoors, dry by fluffing with the hands or with a drier turned on low. To set, thereafter, dampen with a setting lotion and dry quickly. Take your hair down as soon as it dries.

- To control oil between shampoos, apply an astringent tonic to the scalp and blot the head with a terry towel.

- Give your locks a gentle brushing every day with a spanking clean brush.

- Sun and air your hair, daily, for 10 minutes.

- Be wary of fatty foods and sweets. They are of no more help to your hair than to your skin and weight.

er Basin water resources was based, for the most part, on this office's "Summary of the Potomac River Basin Report." However, your statements about the effects of the Six Bridge reservoir on the town of Emmitsburg require some clarification.

Instead of backing up water into Emmitsburg, the recommended Six Bridge project would include a conservation pool for water supply, water quality control and recreation purposes that should come no closer than one-half mile of Emmitsburg. The area of the maximum flood pool, which is larger than the conservation pool, should extend to a point just outside of the town's southeast boundary.

Individuals in or near Emmitsburg who are interested in the effects of this proposed reservoir are advised to read pages 51 through 61 of Volume II of the Potomac River Basin Report. A map of the reservoir area is printed on Plate 10 of the same volume. This booklet can be seen at the C. Burr Artz Library in Frederick, Md., and at the Adams County Free Library in Gettysburg.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command Wednesday blamed a naval shooting incident off South Korea Saturday on a North Korean boat which it said opened fire on a U.N. Command patrol vessel.

The North Koreans claimed Tuesday that a U.S. gunboat attacked a North Korean fishing boat in the Yellow Sea Saturday evening and killed three fishermen. The Communists called a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission Friday, ap-

TOKYO (A)—Red China and the Soviet Union finally have agreed to meet July 5 in Moscow to begin an attempt to iron out their ideological differences.

The Russians had suggested the meeting be held in mid-May. The Chinese proposed mid-June. There was no official explanation of the further delay, but Moscow observers believe the Russians want to conclude the meeting of the Soviet party's Central Committee—scheduled for June—before they meet the Chinese.

ROME (A)—The Vatican pavilion at the 1964 New York World's Fair will cost an estimated $3 million, but the public will be admitted free, the fair's vice president, Charles Poletti, said Tuesday night after a conference with Vatican officials.

He said voluntary contributions, largely from the United States, will finance the exhibit.

Poletti said the pavilion will include Michelangelo's statue of "The Good Shepherd" from Rome's Basilica of St. John Lateran as well as the previously announced "Pieta."

GOVERNOR AT DEDICATION OF NEW LAB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. Scranton made a helicopter visit Tuesday to the dedication ceremony for a new $2,750,000 production laboratory recently put into operation by the Merck, Sharp and Dohme Pharmaceutical Co. at nearby West Point, Montgomery County.

The new lab was fully occupied last month and now makes all 400 of the firm's pharmaceutical products. The dedication completes a 15-year move from Philadelphia.

Scranton stressed the importance of the firm's settling and remaining in Pennsylvania as a truly significant piece of news in the state's economic progress.

"If a firm employing nearly 3,000 people in Pennsylvania decided to close a $3 million plant and move elsewhere, the event would explode in headlines across the state and far across the nation as well," he said.

"But unfortunately, the nature of news is such that the opening of a facility of the same size ordinarily does not attract the same amount of widespread attention."

Scranton said he had asked the company why it was located in Pennsylvania. The answer, he said, was: nearness to scientific institutions, availability of trained personnel, attractive communities, healthy business climate, and good communications, transportation and plant sites.

The new plant is named for John S. Zinsser, retired board chairman of the company.

The Gettysburg "Times"
Gettysburg, Pa.
Sir:

Our troop had the pleasure of visiting your fine community over the weekend May 11th and 12th, 1963. We made our headquarters at the Peace Light Inn. We secured the services of a guide for the tour of the battlefield in our own bus, and conducted a flag service at the site of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The Ranger told us that to his knowledge that was the first time that any kind of a unit had conducted services at that hallowed spot. We attended 7:30 p.m. Mass at St. Francis Xavier Church in your community and thoroughly enjoyed our trip. If possible, we would appreciate an item in your paper re: our trip, and would appreciate a copy of same for our files.

Dear Sir:

Because there seems to be interest, may I indicate something of the nature of the origins of the Adams County Public Library?

Since history is history and with all due and respectful deference to the memory of Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars as an authoress and lover of children, she was not the founder of the Adams County Public Library and was even a very late and reluctant backer of the efforts to create the library. In 1917 and thereabouts, Mrs. Lewars and others made noble but sporadic and ineffective efforts to create a Gettysburg town public library. At that time, county librarians were little known and both town and county public libraries were certainly difficult to create since there were then neither state nor federal aids available. Discouraged, those efforts ceased.

In justice to those in Adams County who later devotedly struggled in several ways to create the county library, efforts should be made to record more accurately and fully the early Adams County Public Library history. The county library actually had its beginnings in the Gettysburg College Library when in 1929 from the opening of the then new college library building the public was permitted the use of the college library resources. That service mounted to the point where it could no longer be supplied gratuitously. At the suggestion that the public library service at the college library be discontinued, the late Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, then president of Gettysburg College, became solicitous about college-town relations. To meet the need, an offer was made to help, thereafter becoming increasingly involved and shortly campaigning for the state public-library-aid bill.

The 1929-1945 efforts to create the Adams County Public Library make a long story. The library did not, as seems to be currently imagined, just happen. Though no funds were supplied, much was spent to develop sentiment for the library. The arduous efforts of Adams Countians should be fully recorded as a part of Adams County as well as state and even national library history. There are those who valiantly endeavored to have a county public library. It was only when the library was finally formed and the comment was made that "the college would run it" that the college librarian withdrew from that particular public library project. Shortly thereafter, at the request of the state Library Association, he became chairman of the state committee for the federal public-library-aid bill.

Dear Mr. Roy:

"ATTENTION ALL MOTHERS — as a salute to you on Mother's Day, we will admit you free, when accompanied by your family. It's a great comedy, you're a great mother!"

And what is this great comedy

this is such grand family entertainment, that would be such a fitting climax to Mother's Day? None other than Bob Hope and Lucille Ball in "Critic's Choice." Sounds like a natural for good family fun on a day when two sons decide to take their mother to the movies. So off the three of us went.

At the box office the boys presented their quarters but soon had to turn to mother. They would after all, have to pay for her admission, and their allowances did not stretch for her ticket. Free? Where was daddy? Free to mothers accompanied by families, the entire family.

And what did you see? Nothing but too much drinking, too much double talk accompanied by too many innuendoes — (what does he mean, mommy? Is he married to her, or to her?) It seems to me that it is high time that in Gettysburg, where there is only one theater, that that theater has a responsibility to its youngsters to make an honest effort to provide decent entertainment not only on Mother's Day, but at Christmas, Thanksgiving, Easter, instead of this unsavory, undesirable mish-mash of sex and drinking presented under the guise of family fun accompanied by misleading gimmicks.

Sincerely,
An indignant citizen

SENATE OKAYS BILL TO SHIFT P.A. LICENSING

HARRISBURG (AP)—Only the signature of the governor is needed to enact a bill to transfer the Bureau of Professional Licensing from the Department of Public Instruction to the Department of State.

The Senate completed legislative action on the bill Tuesday on a straight party-line vote of 27-12 after Democrats failed in an effort to ban the proposed commissioner of professional licensing from active politics.

Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner noted that the Department of State always has been headed by a political personage, adding that the bill, without a ban on politics against the commissioner, "opens the door to criticism."

AMENDMENT LOSES
Weiner also offered an amendment, defeated by the same vote, to require Senate confirmation of the commissioner, who would be paid $15,000 a year.

The bill is expected to receive prompt approval by Gov. Scranton, since the change in jurisdiction was part of the Republican election campaign platform last fall. Alan L. Emlen, Philadelphia real estate man, is reported in line for the post.

SAFETY BELTS APPROVED

The Senate also passed for a second time a bill to require installation of safety seat belts on all new autos sold in Pennsylvania beginning in July, 1964. A unanimous vote of 50-0 was given to a bill that would stiffen penalties for driving on state roads without an operator's license or after the operator's privilege had been suspended or revoked. It was sent to the House.

AVERT STRIKE OF TRAINMEN AT BETHLEHEM

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A threatened strike of some 1,500 trainmen, firemen and engineers on six Bethlehem Steel Corp. railroads was averted early Wednesday when management agreed to delay elimination of any jobs until Nov. 1, 1964.

The only issue between management and two railroad unions was a company demand to cut unneeded firemen on diesels and reduce alleged excess ground crew members.

The railroads are a subsidiary of the steel operation. They are operated in Bethlehem plants at Lackawanna, N. Y.; Sparrows Point, Md.; and Bethlehem, Steelton, Lebanon and Clover, Pa. The Clover facility is a mining operation.

REACH PACT

Richard J. Kent, vice president of the railroad subsidiary, said a settlement was reached late Tuesday night after negotiations supervised by federal mediator Judson McSwan.

The unions involved are the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Kent said the union members also received fringe benefits, such as improvements in pension and hospitalization, under provisions of the contract reached last year with the steelworkers.

A walkout would have affected all of Bethlehem Steel's operations. The railroads move materials within the plants and also connect with connecting rail freight lines.

More Rainfall Is Needed In State

HARRISBURG (AP)—Although weekend dumped up to three inches of rain in some parts of the state, more rain is needed to improve soil conditions, the state Crop Reporting Service said today.

The service's weekly report added, however, that the dry conditions, coupled with high temperatures, permitted farmers to continue with spring plowing and planting.

Classes elected their representatives to Student Council on Friday, May 10. Each representative will serve during the 1963-64 school year unless disqualified by failure to maintain a satisfactory scholastic and deportment rating or by being absent from more than two of the council's meetings.

Martha Eshelman, Joe Lemmon and Dolores Wolf represent the sophomore classes; Gail Boyer and Sandy Miller, freshmen; and Midge Porter and James Griffie, eighth grade.

Representatives to the council from the in-coming seventh grade will be elected in the fall. Election of the council officers will also take place at that time.

"Operation Clean-Up" was the topic of an assembly written and presented by the senior class on Friday, May 10. The production, which ridiculed some of the dress and behavior adopted by some teenagers, was in the form of a series of mock TV shows sponsored by "Stonewall Soap Company" and "Hazel Mishap Cosmetics."

Seniors received their commencement announcements and name cards on Friday, May 10. This year the announcements have as an added feature a sketch of the school. Each senior also received eight voting tickets.

Allies Reject New Russian Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and West Germany have agreed on notes rejecting Soviet protests against a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force. The notes will be delivered in Moscow by next Monday.

Diplomatic informants said the theme of the Western replies will be that the proposed NATO multilateral nuclear weapons force is entirely defensive.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin has been called home to Moscow for consultation on the state of East-West relations—and U.S.-Soviet relations, specifically—and plans to leave the middle of next week.

Meat counters offer many choices in beef, pork and poultry from abundant supplies, says Harold Neigh, consumer marketing specialist at Penn State. Because of the competition for your meat dollar, prices continue to be reasonable.

Selected beef cuts are featured more prominently than other meats as prices continue to decline in May. Roasts may show a greater price decline with the warmer weather than the more desirable quick cooking beef cuts.

Fewer promotional possibilities are noted in pork lines as live and wholesale costs rise. Heaviest pork supplies are past and prices are heading for their usual summer high. It will be late summer before the high prices are reached so there will still be good pork values from time to time. Watch for features in steaks, chops, ham and bacon.

Fryers continue to be featured in many markets with peak supplies yet to come. Turkey remains at attractive prices. Large eggs are the best egg value and prices are drifting lower at most markets. Prices in May are expected to be 2 to 3 cents lower than during April.

Retail fresh produce and grocery lines show the same price tags basically as were prevalent last week. There are no supply problems to report, with the exception of citrus.

Rhubarb, fresh pineapple and strawberries are more conspicuous in the markets these days. Watermelon and cantaloupe seem to arrive earlier every year.

Tomatoes, cucumbers, corn and potatoes are the items in heaviest supply moving from Florida vegetable areas.

Juices are reflecting the effects of the freeze on the orange crop. Tomato juice, orange drinks and a number of other fruit drinks are costing less than a year ago. Pineapple and pineapple grapefruit drinks, although listing no price changes, have gained in popularity this season.

The lights formerly used for baseball at Ebbets Field are to be used by the New York Soccer Club at Randall's Island Stadium this year.

Senate Rewrites Education Bill; Provisions Softened

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Scranton administration's compulsory school reorganization bill was rewritten by the Senate Education Committee Tuesday to soften its provisions.

The effect of the revision was to adopt a 10-year-old program as a substitute for the administration plan.

Meanwhile, the House Education Committee gave preliminary approval to bills providing an additional $50 million in aid to public schools for classroom instruction costs and up to $10 million in aid to schools that had to repair buildings to meet fire and safety standards.

SET 1,400 FIGURE

Both measures need House Appropriations Committee clearance before final action by the House. The Senate Education Committee's decision on the reorganization bill upset an agreement worked out with the House Education Committee as well as the administration plan.

The net effect of the committee's revisions would be to set 1,600 pupils as the desirable population per school district rather than the 4,000 pupils now advanced by state education policy-makers under both Gov. Scranton and his predecessor, David L. Lawrence.

NEW PLAN BY '64

The 4,000-pupil standard would be retained in the bill, but the committee decided to insert a provision that any county that reorganizes its school districts in line with the standards of the 1953 voluntary reorganization plan be acceptable.

The earlier plan used 1,600 pupils as a guide for reorganization. The counties would have to submit new plans, however, by July 1, 1964, but the only change they would be forced to make would be to provide that every system be complete from kindergarten or first grade through high school.

FURTHER CONCESSION

The 1953 plan permitted partial systems of either elementary schools or secondary schools or combinations.

The decision to go the 1953 plan as a basis for compulsory reorganization was a further concession to advocates of repeal of all compulsory legislation in this area. There is a law on the books, adopted in 1961, ordering reorganization into systems of 4,000 pupils. The act permitted districts as small as 2,500 pupils where such factors as topography, potential growth or distinctive community characteristics dictated.

Enforcement of the law, a major issue in the 1962 campaign, was held up while the new administration came up with its own plan.

DROP QUALITY APPROACH

However, the only significant departure of the Scranton proposal was one exempting from reorganization districts with so-called quality programs.

After studying that feature, the House and Senate Education Committees had agreed informally that the quality approach should be dropped in favor of a provision that any district deemed capable of offering a comprehensive education program be permitted to stand alone.

The capability principle was accepted by the Senate committee, but it added the provision for acceptance of the 1953 plans as an additional provision.

Gives Brotherhood Award To Blough

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Conference of Christians and Jews has given its brotherhood award to board chairman Roger M. Blough of United States Steel Corp.

The award, a silver plaque "for distinguished service in the field of human relations," was presented by Robert D. Murphy, former undersecretary of state for political affairs and now president of Coming Glass International, at a banquet in Blough's honor Tuesday night.

LEMON TWIST IN PREAKNESS ON HIS LOSSES

By GEORGE BOWEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Lemon Twist, an oddly-named thoroughbred, will be in the $150,000-added Preakness Saturday for an unusual reason: success achieved by a couple of horses that beat him.

Normally, a colt gets into a race with the stature of a Preakness on his own victories. Trainer Pete Keiser explained Lemon Twist's arrival at Pimlico from Chicago as an attempt to recoup his own miscalculations.

"When this colt finished third to Chateaugay and Get Around in the Blue Grass," Keiser said today, "I didn't think he was beaten by horses as good as they showed they were later."

VIEWS CHANGED

"Now, one wins the Derby (Chateaugay) and the other (Get Around) wins the Withers."

After the Blue Grass, trainer Keiser decided Lemon Twist had better skip the Kentucky Derby. "I guess you can say I got Candy Spots in my eyes," he said, speaking of the Derby favorite.

Keiser's views changed after Candy Spots finished third to Chateaugay and Never Bend in the Louisville classic.

Lemon Twist is owned by Theodore D. Buhl of Detroit. The Illinois Derby was his second triumph in nine races this year.

His opposition in the 13-16th mile Preakness will include the four best from the Kentucky Derby and at least two others.

John P. Galbreath's Chateaugay will be trying to get the second leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-old colts, while his closest Derby challengers, Harry F. Guggenheim's Never Bend, Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, and Ambush Stable's On My Honor will be hoping to get back into the champion-hip picture. Also counted upon when entries close Thursday morning are Jacot Stable's Country Squire and Mrs. C. D. Morgan's Sky Wonders.

Country Squire qualified by taking Monday's Preakness Prep and Sky Wonder off a runner-up finish to Get Around in last Saturday's Withers.

Pennsylvania

The state Senate has called an afternoon session to roll toward a final vote Friday $128.5 million in sales and cigarette tax increases. Today's meeting was expected to be uneventful with full debate sure to come Friday when the third and final reading is given to the House-approved measures.

Gov. Scranton says he is "well pleased" with Republican activity in both House and Senate in tackling the problem of taxes to balance a proposed $1.21 billion budget. He told his weekly news conference that he felt the morale of Republicans in both Houses was high.

In another news conference development, Gov. Scranton labeled President Kennedy's proposed wheat control program "a detriment" to Pennsylvania. "If I were a Pennsylvania farmer, I'd definitely vote against it," the governor said.

7TH FLEET SPEARHEADS ASIAN UNITS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. 7th Fleet in the far Pacific Ocean is divided basically into three task forces, each built about an attack carrier. (see map)

There is a fourth grouping which, in itself, could be counted as a task force. It is an amphibious group carrying 2,000 Marines and built around a carrier converted for helicopter use.

The North task force operates in and around Japanese waters, while the second guards the Formosa Straits and the third patrols the South Pacific area from Viet Nam to Australia.

The amphibious force can be attached to any of the three task forces as the need arises.

HAVE 125 SHIPS

All told there are 125 ships in the 7th Fleet, ranging from the carriers down through Landing Ships, Tank, Aboard ship are 60,000 sailors and Marines.

In recent years part of the 7th Fleet with its 650 armed aircraft, including fighters, helicopters, couriers and fighter bombers, has operated within striking distance of the Asian mainland at all times.

For all practical purposes, the fleet's home ports are Subic Bay in the Philippines and Yokosuka in Japan. These, however, are only way stops for food and to give crews rest leaves.

By and large the fleet is refueled at sea—where it spends most of its time.

The Marines attached to the Fleet are part of the Third Marine Division on Okinawa, commanded by Maj. Gen. Henry W. Buse, a combat veteran of World War II and Korea.

30-DAY ROTATION

Battalion landing teams from the division are rotated about every 30 days to avoid physical deterioration which comes from long periods at sea.

The 7th Fleet is on a constant semi-alert, prepared to assemble on order, land troops or strike with either atomic or conventional bombs.

The Fleet, under the command of Vice Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, is always ready for an emergency—such as the request in 1962 to land troops in Thailand.

Even now part of the Fleet is hovering off the Gulf of Siam just in case trouble develops on the Thailand-Laos borders with the Communist and Thailand asks for help.

Acquittal For Lawrence C. Zeger

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—

Lawrence C. Zeger, former Franklin County Democratic leader, was acquitted Tuesday of charges of political macing after he had been convicted twice before.

A jury of 11 men and one woman brought in the verdict.

Visiting Judge Thomas F. Lansberry of Somerset County ordered Zeger to pay half the court costs in the case.

Zeger had been accused of demanding political contributions from state employees at the Samuel G. Dickson State Hospital at South Mountain in 1959. He was convicted at two previous trials, but the convictions were reversed—one by trial court and the second by state Superior Court.

Senate To Vote Soon On Sales Tax Increase Given Okay By House 110-90

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans planned today to take advantage of the momentum generated by the House and give final approval to increases in the sales and cigarette taxes by the end of the week.

"We expect to run them this week, perhaps Friday or Saturday," Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger said Tuesday immediately after the tax proposals cleared the House.

House Republicans after three hours debate sparked by an almost solid Democratic opposition passed an increase in the sales tax from 4 to 5 per cent and a two-cents-a-pack boost in the cigarette impost.

LIQUOR TAX UP

The House Republicans also amended and put in position for final action today a 5 per cent increase in the tax on liquor, to a total of 15 per cent.

The three levies would provide an estimated $141 million annually—the sales tax $102.5 million more cigarettes $26 million and liquor $12.5 million.

The tax program would provide more than the $139 million requested by Gov. Scranton to balance a $1.12 billion budget for 1963-64, but it was a compromise from the governor's proposal for a one-cent cigarette boost and a 4½ per cent sales levy extended to clothing and shoes. The latter items will not be taxed under the

5 per cent rate. EXPECTED TO PASS

Berger expressed hope the Senate Finance Committee would meet today and give initial approval to the bills, which require reading on three separate days.

Berger said he had not made an official count of votes in the 27-member Senate Republican caucus, but added:

"I don't expect any difficulty. We're reconciled to the need for new tax revenue and there is no mystery in what the bills contain."

Republicans could pass the bills by themselves, since only 26 affirmative votes are needed for Senate passage.

2 DEMOCRATS BOLTED

Senate Democrats have promised a solid front of opposition, as House Democrats had done.

But in the House, two Democrats bolted to support the sales tax increase with the final vote 10-90 and eight Democrats defected to support the cigarette bill which passed 117-83.

House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson jubilantly raised clenched fists above his head in a gesture of triumph as Republicans gave him the unexpectedly overwhelming show off support on the sales tax measure.

HORST BROKE RANKS

Only Rep. Enos H. Horst, R-Franklin, broke ranks in the Republican caucus on the sales tax. The Democratic defectors were

SUCCESSOR TO MINOW FINDS BRIGHT SPOTS ON TV HORIZON

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — To replace Newton N. Minow as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission President Kennedy has picked a 34-year-old lawyer who finds some "green shoots" sprouting in what Minow once described as "a vast wasteland"—the field of television.

Minow, 37, handed in his resignation Tuesday, five years before his term ends, to become executive vice president and general counsel of Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

To take his place, Kennedy chose E. William Henry, former member of a Memphis, Tenn., law firm, who has served as a commissioner on the FCC since last August.

BIG JOB SHUFFLE

Minow's resignation, to take effect June 1, set off a shuffle involving five jobs.

To fill the vacancy on the commission, the President announced his intention to appoint Asst. Atty.

Reps. Edward J. McNally, Cambria, and Erwin L. Murray, Cameron.

Democrats voting for the cigarette levy were Reps. John Gailley, York; McNally; Murray; W. Brady Hetrick; Mifflin; J. Dean Polen, Washington; John T. Walsh, Allegheny; Victor R. H. Yarnell, Berks, and Van Yetter Jr., Monroe.

Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky, Westmoreland, led off the main debate with an attack on "the utter ruthlessness with which Gov. Scranton's forces in this legislature, marshaled and directed by personnel from his own office, have pushed down our throats this oppressive 5 per cent sales tax measure."

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Other legislative highlights: Professional licensing — Senate Republicans gave final legislative approval, 27-12, to a bill to place the bureau of professional licensing under the secretary of the commonwealth. Senate Democrats failed with an amendment to ban the proposed commissioner off professional licensing from active politics.

Gubernatorial disability—A bipartisan bill was offered in the Senate to provide for a judicial committee to pass on mental and physical disabilities that might impair the ability of the governor or lieutenant governor to fulfill his duties.

Gen. Lee Loevinger, 50, who has been in charge of the Department of Justice's antitrust division.

As his replacement, Kennedy said he would name William H. Orrick Jr., 47, now deputy under-secretary of state for administration.

BOBBY'S LIEUTENANT

For Orrick it will be a return to familiar grounds. Before being named to the State Department post last July, he served for more than a year as assistant attorney general in charge of the civil division. He is said to be a trusted lieutenant of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The chain reaction of job changes was reported to be completed with William J. Rockett, now assistant secretary of state for administration in charge of personnel, succeeding Orrick and Herman Pollack, deputy assistant secretary, taking over Crockett's office.

THANKS FROM JFK

In his letter accepting Minow's resignation, Kennedy penned "Dear Newt" over the formal salutation of "Dear Mr. Minow" and added under his signature, "Many thanks for all you have done."

Minow, who came in with the first pioneers of the New Frontier, will not likely get such a ringing sendoff from the broadcasting industry.

Just last April the National Association of Broadcasters convention listened in cool silence as Minow charged that the industry had not succeeded in regulating itself and that the public was "drowning in commercials and calling for help."

Lawyers Argue Legality Of President's Action In Birmingham Race Problem

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's action in Birmingham's racial trouble, whether or not it boils again, has given lawyers something to argue about.

He has sent 3,000 troops into Alabama military bases—near but not in Birmingham—for possible use in Birmingham if there's a repetition in that city of last Saturday night's violence against Negroes and the Negro riot which followed.

The question is: Does he have a right to use troops in such a situation when no federal law, court order or function is specifically involved? The governor of Alabama, George C. Wallace, says no.

GOVERNOR OBJECTS

He cites the Constitution—Article 4, Section 4—which says the federal government shall protect a state against "domestic violence" if the legislature or governor asks such protection.

Under such constitutional authority the President could use troops. But Wallace says Kennedy hasn't been asked to intervene with troops or otherwise.

The Justice Department says that up to this point the President needed no special authority—either constitutional or by specific statute—for moving troops into Alabama. They haven't intervened in anything.

But, it was explained, if new disorders break out the President could then decide whether to put the troops in Birmingham under authority of a specific law—Article 10, Section 333 of the U.S. Code—which goes back in history.

COULD USE LAW
It says: The President can use troops or "any other means" to suppress domestic violence in a state if it—

"Hinders the execution of the laws of that state, and of the United States within the state, that any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity or protection named in the Constitution and that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection."

Under the 14th Amendment to the Constitution all citizens are guaranteed the right of equal protection of the laws.

But, despite the explanation at the Justice Department that the President could decide whether to send troops into Birmingham if new rioting began, one thing seems obvious.

JFK OBLIGATED

Kennedy must have already decided to send in the troops if rioting occurs again because he would lose face if he didn't after making the gesture of putting the troops into Alabama.

It can be argued the President hasn't necessarily made such a decision, that he could wait until after rioting started to determine whether it was a riot out of hand that local police couldn't—or wouldn't—cope with it.

Yet, if he held back the troops to see how bad the rioting was a number of people could be killed before he made up his mind. That, too, would be an embarrassment to him.

would be used immediately—under Article 10, Section 333—if rioting was renewed.

SERVES TO WARN

For this reason the very presence of the troops near Birmingham—although not in it—can be interpreted as a warning to Birmingham extremists not to start anything unless they want the troops in.

But in view of the constitutional provision that a President could use troops to restore domestic peace in a state—provided a legislature or governor asked for them—how could he justify using Article 10, Section 333, without such a request?

In this case it would have to be on his own decision that Alabama law enforcement officers were unable, failed or refused to protect its citizens.

Article 10, Section 333, is rooted in American history, almost to the very beginning of the government. Presidents repeatedly have sent troops into a state to stop various disturbances—even though a governor protested. But consistently the excuse was to protect some federal law or function or uphold a federal court order.

HAS BEEN USED

President Eisenhower at Little Rock in 1957 and Kennedy at the University of Mississippi in 1962 used troops to stop mob violence which was an attempt to block a federal court order that Negroes be admitted to white schools. They relied on Article 10, Section 333.

There was a difference in May 1961, when mobs of white segregationists stoned and beat up a number of "Freedom Riders" going through Alabama on buses from Washington to New Orleans.

CHARGED VIOLATION

At that time the President—through his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—sent more than 600 U.S. marshals into Alabama to protect the riders when Alabama police were slow to do so.

The Justice Department explained the action: to protect interstate commerce (bus transportation) and to see that "other federal rights are given due protection." The governor of Alabama at that time, John Patterson, protested, and, like Gov. Wallace now, said the action was unconstitutional.

The Justice Department didn't say publicly at the time it was acting under Article 10, Section 333, but it can be said accurately this was the case.

If Kennedy uses troops to stop rioting in Birmingham it will—so far as this writer can learn—be the first time a president took such action when no specific federal law, court order or function was at stake. But, as in the Montgomery case, the government could say constitutional protections were.

Billion Invested In "Empty Space"

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some $1 billion in natural gas industry money is invested in "empty" space in 21 states, including Pennsylvania.

A report to the American Gas Association's Operating Section Conference Wednesday said the "empty" space is underground storage areas in which natural gas is "banked" for use in times of peak demand.

The association's Committee on Underground Storage said storage areas are at a capacity of 3.5 trillion cubic feet, equal to one-quarter of all gas used last year. Pennsylvania ranks first in underground storage capacity, the report said.

EXPECT STATE SENATE WILL DEBATE TAXES FULLY FRIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate called an afternoon session today to roll toward a final vote Friday $128.5 million in sales and cigarette tax increases.

The meeting was expected to be uneventful with full debate sure to come Friday when the third and final reading is given to the House-approved measures. It takes three days to pass a bill.

The Senate Finance Committee gave the upper chamber's initial approval after inserting "clarifying" amendments and a 1 per cent collection commission in the sales tax bill.

ENOUGH VOTES

Majority Leader James S. Berger said the roll call would be taken at a session beginning at 3 p.m. Friday.

He has said repeatedly there are sufficient votes in the 27-member Republican caucus to pass the bills without Democratic help. In the Senate, 26 votes are needed for passage.

But Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner is marshaling his forces for an all out debate. He contacted the other 22 Democrats by telephone Wednesday and told them to be on hand for the session "unless they are in a hospital."

ADDING AMENDMENTS

Republicans reportedly called for immediate action on the bills to insure that the measures are enacted before the June 1 deadline set by Gov. Scranton.

Since the Senate is adding amendments, the bills have to go back to the House for agreement on the changes.

As passed by the House Tuesday, the sales tax would be increased from 4 to 5 per cent to raise an estimated $102.5 million more annually. The cigarette levy would be boosted from six to eight cents a pack to raise some $26 million.

TITLE CHANGED

In addition, the title of the act was changed from sales and use tax to the "Tax Act of 1963 for Education."

Sen. Henry J. Probert, R-Montgomery, Finance Committee chairman, said the collection commission to be paid to merchants would cost some $5 million. However, he added it would be paid only to those retailers who make prompt returns to the state treasury.

The amendment restores half of the 2 per cent collection commission lopped off by the Democrats in the 1961 session.

Specifically exempted, as they are under the present 4 per cent rate, are candy, chewing gum and tombstones. Specifically taxed, again as at present, are beer sold by distributors and liquor purchased at state stores.

SCRANTON DROPS IN

Nine members, all Republicans, of the 17-man Finance Committee attended a meeting for more than an hour to iron out the amendments. They were advised by officials of the Justice Department and outside tax experts.

Gov. Scranton personally visited the meeting, a highly unusual practice. He declined comment afterward.

Probert said the governor did not inject the tax issue nor did he comment on it.

"We simply explained what we had done," said Probert.

PARTY MORALE HIGH

Earlier, the governor made another unusual visit to the House Republican caucus to thank and congratulate his party members for their speedy passage of the tax bills.

At a news conference, Scranton said he was "very pleased with the activity in the House and Senate," adding:

"The morale of Republicans in both Houses seems very high."

The House skimmed through a light session before adjourning until May 22. Republican leaders, still weary from Tuesday's debate, decided against running the final bill in the $141 million tax

Mrs. Roessing, 1915 Suffragette, Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. Jennie Bradley Roessing, former president of the Pennsylvania Women's Suffrage Association.

Mrs. Roessing died Wednesday at her home in the city's Oakland section.

In 1915, as association president, Mrs. Roessing drove a truck carrying a replica of the Liberty Bell to county seats throughout the state. She also lobbied in Washington as first vice president of the National Women's Suffrage Association for adoption of the 19th Amendment.

LAUDS PRICE RISES

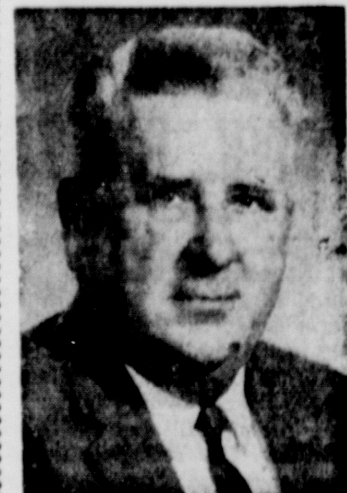

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Recent selective price increases in fabricated aluminum products are "healthy steps in the right direction," says an Aluminum Co. of America official, but he doesn't anticipate an increase in the domestic price of primary aluminum in the foreseeable future.

Executive Vice President F. J. Close said in a statement Wednesday if the aluminum fabricating industry is to modernize facilities, build new ones and continue providing employment in the face of foreign competition, it must improve its earnings.

In 1920, Man o' War won the Preakness and Belmont. He was not nominated for the Kentucky Derby.

Troops, State Troopers Muddy Racial Agreement

By JACK STILLMAN
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A Negro leader says Gov. George C. Wallace is trying to undermine a biracial agreement on Birmingham's racial problems by keeping state troopers in the city.

While the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth was calling on Wallace Tuesday night to remove the highway patrolmen, Wallace again was calling on President Kennedy to withdraw special federal troops he sent into Alabama.

Wallace replied to Shuttlesworth, one of the top leaders in the desegregation campaign, that the state troopers would remain in Birmingham as long as he thinks they are needed to help maintain law and order.

JFK STANDS FIRM

The White House announced no reply to Wallace's latest telegram protesting the federal troops, but the President has shown no inclination to recall the soldiers in previous exchanges with the Alabama governor.

In his latest telegram, Wallace demanded that what he termed an "advance echelon of a military striking force" be withdrawn from Birmingham. This was a reference to about 25 officers of a headquarters planning unit in the city. Wallace said their presence invited new rioting by Negroes.

About 3,000 riot-trained soldiers have been sent to military posts in Alabama, but they are not in Birmingham.

The President had lunch Tuesday with 25 Alabama publishers and editors and the main topic of discussion was the state's racial problems.

ASKS COOPERATION

Kennedy reportedly urged cooperation between local Negro and white leaders, and said that any Negro trend toward extremism would best be offset by conferences between moderates on both sides. The luncheon had been scheduled for some time.

The White House announced that Kennedy's trip to north Alabama Saturday for a Tennessee Valley Authority function will not include visits to Tusculum, Sheffield and Florence, as had been announced previously.

Mushrooming developments relating to Alabama's racial problems included:

—President Kennedy delays decision on asking Congress for broader authority in civil rights cases pending results of efforts to end racial disturbances in the South.

OTHER MEETINGS

—About 300 Negroes met in Selma, Ala., 100 miles to the south, to plan a voter registration drive. The sheriff and about 600 deputies stood guard, turning away carloads of white persons. No trouble was reported.

—An integrated group including actress Madeline Sherwood planned a day-long vigil at a jail in Gadsden, Ala., where "freedom marchers" are held.

—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Southern integration leader, said in Cleveland, Ohio, that racial discrimination "must be uprooted from our society." He said desegregation in Birmingham would send repercussions throughout the South.

—Negro leader Roy Wilkins in New York urged "forebearance and restraint" in the use of federal troops in Alabama. He is executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

JFK DELAYING DECISION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is delaying a decision on asking Congress for broad federal authority in civil rights cases while awaiting the results of efforts to end racial disturbances in the South.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, said a request for authority to permit the attorney general to initiate cases for individuals alleged to have been denied their rights remains a possibility.

Humphrey said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy "does not feel at this time the need for this authority," because the President's brother felt any such immediate request might agitate the situation in Birmingham, Ala., and elsewhere.

FILIBUSTER LIKELY

But Humphrey said he is confident there will be a decision made later on whether to add the controversial proposal to the administration's voting rights recommendations now before Congress.

Any such request would be likely to result in a stormy Senate filibuster by Southern opponents of civil rights measures. The political explosion that would greet any administration push to get action on such a bill could easily endanger congressional passage of a tax reduction to which Kennedy has given No. 1 priority in this session.

But the administration is under pressure from Northern Democrats and Negro leaders to move faster in the civil rights field than it thus far has shown a willingness to go.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—The state Departments of Health and Public Instruction said Tuesday they hope to establish regular high school courses to teach young people the ill effects of smoking. The two departments are sponsoring a state campaign against smoking among youth.

SENATORS ARE ANGRY ABOUT FARE INCREASE

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators angered by the U.S. backdown on a fare increase on transatlantic air routes called government officials Wednesday for a public airing of the international dispute.

In advance of an afternoon hearing of the Senate Commerce Committee, Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., protested this country had capitulated without a fight.

He estimated a 5 per cent increase in round-trip economy class fares will cost Americans traveling to Europe about $15 million a year.

MEANS $27

What does it mean to the individual passenger? He will be paying an extra $27 for his New York-London economy (tourist) roundtrip ticket, according to State Department officials. His fare will go up from $486 to $513. The increase voted last fall by the International Air Transport Association—IATA—actually is a reduction in the discount allowed for return tickets—5 per cent instead of 10 per cent.

The change went into effect Saturday in Europe, but until Tuesday the Civil Aeronautics Board had refused to permit American Airlines to adopt the higher fares.

It announced then through an exchange of letters between CAB Chairman Alan S. Boyd and Secretary of State Dean Rusk that it was yielding to diplomatic pressure.

Rusk had suggested that in the absence of CAB authority to regulate international air route fares, Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines should be permitted to file the increased fares.

But Pan American said it planned to continue present rates for several days "until the situation clarifies." Trans World also seemed in no hurry to act.

Great Britain had threatened to confiscate American airliners landing in London and to take other steps to prevent their operation on the Atlantic run unless they went along with the rate boost.

USE OLD SUB TO LOCATE SUB

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—An old Navy veteran, the submarine Toro, was enroute Wednesday to its final mission which Navy officials hope will lead them to the ocean grave of the nuclear attack submarine Thresher.

The Toro, a member of the Navy's exclusive "Ten Grander" club, composed of submarines which have made 10,000 or more dives, was towed from the Philadelphia shipyard Tuesday and is due at Boston today.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Residents of Wilkes-Barre and nearby communities awaited today the resumption of bus service

Early next week, if the Thresher has not yet been located, the Navy plans to sink the Toro in the same spot where the Thresher is believed to have gone down.

By following the descent of the Toro and then bouncing sound waves off her sunken hull, the Navy said it hopes to "determine exactly what underwater sounds in the Thresher search area could be the elusive echo of a submarine hull."

after a seven-month interruption caused by a strike.

Members of Local 1119 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America voted Tuesday to accept the latest offer from the Martz Bus Co. The offer, terms of which were not disclosed, was the same one the members rejected last April 25.

Company and union representatives planned to meet Wednesday to work out details of the settlement and plan a resumption of service.

Martz serves Wilkes-Barre, Hanover Township, South Wilkes-Barre and Plymouth and runs into New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.
